Student Life

Student Life

Starting off right with a good dose of "Jungle Fever," Rebecca Good and Natalie Lodico take time to get to know each other better as roommates on Jungle.

Enlisting her brother Bryan's help, Jenny DeJong unloads her gear from her car. Unpacking is probably one of the most time-consuming chores a student has at the beginning of the semester. Not only do clothing and toiletries have to be unpacked, but also the room has to be rearranged and posters/curtains/other accessories have to be added to make the room livable.

Precariously balanced on a ladder, Ben Stewart rolls paint across the wall of Rock Creek's new church building. Ben's group helped clean up the yard and the church itself so that it could be used for services.

Starting up ORIENTATION "Ora et Labora"

Holding up a large bag of refuse, Josh Mather shows that his group is making a lot of progress during the Amateur Project.

Orientation week - probably the most exciting week an incoming college student anticipates. Fortunately for students at Covenant, Orientation isn't as difficult as it might be somewhere else. You drive up, you drag all your stuff out of the car, a friendly-looking college student helps you take your stuff to your new room, and you settle in with your new hallmates. Later in the week, you get put into groups by major. Each group is asked to participate in something called an "Amateur Project." This project is usually hard labor that forces the students to become closer to one another as they figure out how to overcome the challenge put before them. Covenant believes that not only should we be servants in word, but also in deed. On the back of the Amateur Project shirts, it states this goal: "Ora et Labora"— Latin for "Prayer and Work."

Cindy Todd, Stacey Holliday and Charissa Baker stand behind a counter to serve food at a soup kitchen. This Amateur project was very helpful in helping its members get to know each other a lot better through interaction.

Working together as a team, AJ Estep, Jeremy Brooker, Paige Weichbrodt, Josh Mather, Justin Borger, and Dustin Honaker help each other put plants into the trash.

Proudly hoisting a newly cut tree, Dustin Honaker shows that with enough effort and a bit of elbow grease, the work can be done.

Grooving at Cartoon Kilter with painted faces

Guys, it's just not fair that you always have to ask the girls out, is it? Well Kilter helps change this trend. For the women brave enough to ask a guy to a dance, Kilter is the place to be. Similar to a "Sadie Hawkins Day" dance, females are forced to come up with creative ideas for getting their dates to agree to come. Some girls used different objects to spell the word Kilter, while others just came up with a play on words for their guy's name. This year Kilter was held at Miller Plaza in downtown Chattanooga. The glass walls and the lights were a great effect for the atmosphere. This year's theme for Kilter was "Kartoon Kilter." Each couple or group had to dress up as a cartoon character from TV or movies. While Disney was popular, TV characters were hardly rare and there was even a group of raptors lurking around.

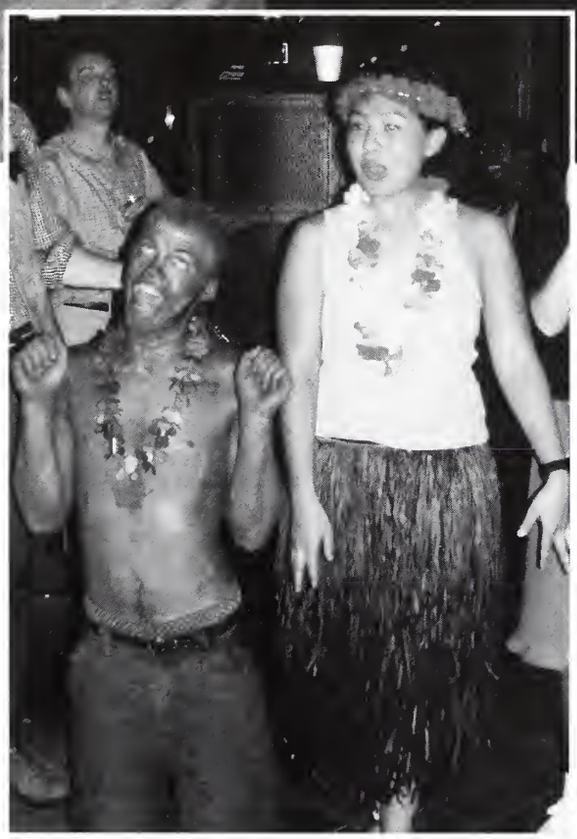
With not much time to spare, Martha Ball, Meg Deaver, and Jeremy Brooker all came up with last-minute ideas. Martha came as Lady from Lady and the Tramp, while Meg was Mary Jane and Jeremy was Spiderman from the cartoon Spiderman.

After dancing for a while, Jeremy Brooker and Matt Fray decided to take a swim in the fountain outside Miller Plaza. The air was so hot and humid that many people had the same thought - anything to get rid of the heat!

As one part of a big group, Jessica Novikoff and Lael Galardi represent Tinkerbelle and Peter Pan. The girls went with a large group of people who all dressed up as different characters from the Disney movie Peter Pan.

Coming up with a creative idea for three women, Gretchen Lee, Rebecca Tuggy, and Linnea Minich decided on the fairies from Sleeping Beauty. For such a creative costume, the group won the "Best Group Costume" award.

Talking with one another while watching the drinks, Adam Belz (dressed as Woody from Toy Story) and Erika Olson (dressed as Pocahontas) discuss how hot it is and how they believe that someone should have brought more ice.



With a giant grin for the camera, Ken Montgomery and Emily Hitchman try to keep their face paint in tact. The two were dressed as Animaniac characters from the TV show "Animaniacs." The couple has a reason to grin: they're now engaged.

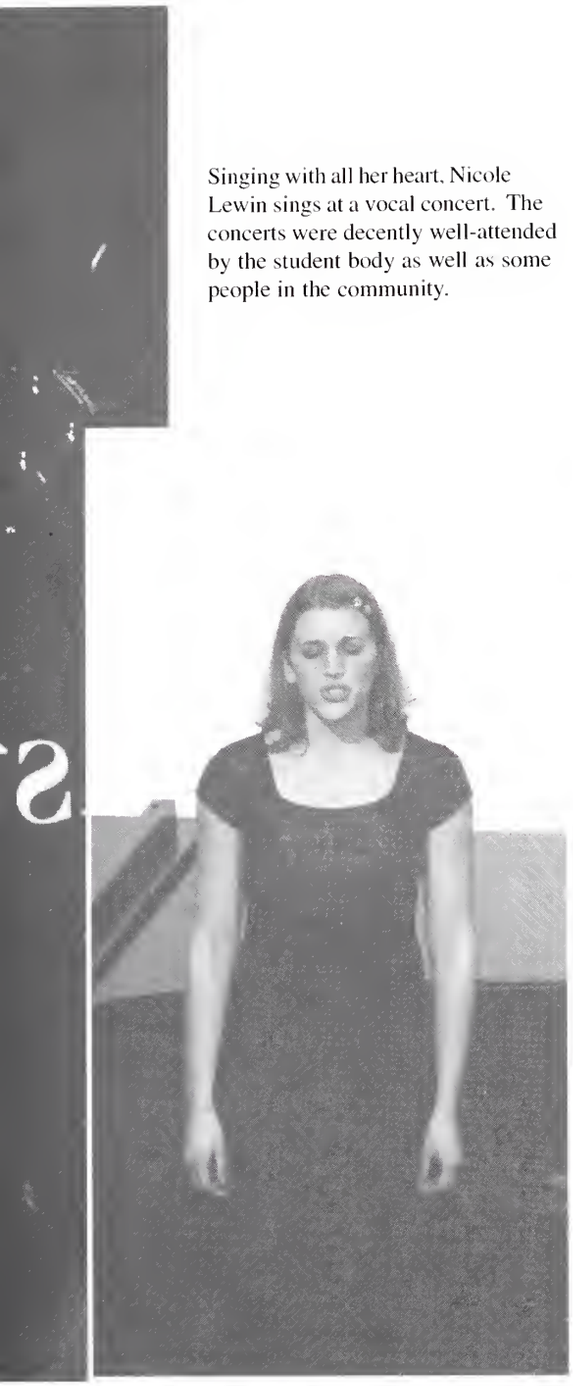
Following the trend of Disney costumes, Justin Johnson and Rachel Watanabe keep themselves in character. The couple decided to go as Lilo and Stitch, two cartoons from a movie that had just recently been released.

Concentrating on picking his acoustic guitar, Siler's Bald's lead singer Shane Williams holds the spotlight. Along with the rest of the band, Shane was willing to talk to any of the students who stayed afterward to talk or get autographs signed.

Singing from her heart, Jeanne Nunallee wows her audience. Jeanne played at Greyfriar's coffee house along with Matt Sloan and Jordan Chapell one evening. Quite a few Covenant students were able to make it into the tiny coffee house to support their friends.

Listening intently to Jeanne Nunallee's performance, Betsy Haluska and Matt Sloan focus in on Jeanne's talent. Later in the evening, Matt also played his guitar and sang.

Rock, classical, R & B Concerts light up the stage



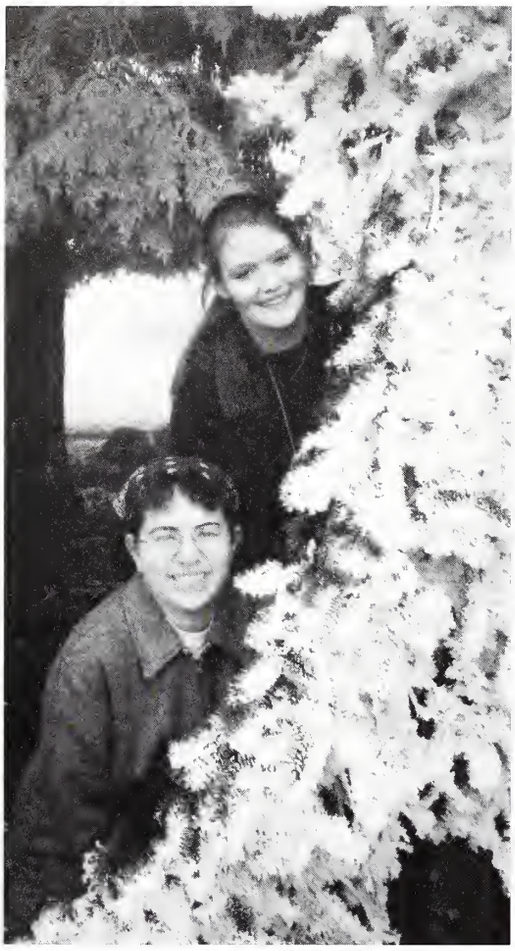
Singing with all her heart, Nicole Lewin sings at a vocal concert. The concerts were decently well-attended by the student body as well as some people in the community.

With a wide variety of tastes in music, students in college don't all go to the same sorts of concerts. For Covenant students, that doesn't seem to be a problem since there are different types of concerts playing almost every weekend. As Dr. Steele and Dr. Anderson get together choirs and orchestras for those who enjoy more classical music, CAB is busy hiring singers like Nicole C. Mullins and alternative rock bands such as the Christian band Siler's Bald. No matter how big the artist(s), each group or person requires a team to set up a stage and to run the sound equipment for their performance.

Posing with the portrait of Craig Lyons, Silers Bald admires the work. The band really liked the picture and wanted their group shot to be taken with Craig Lyons' portrait.

Playing one of her famous tunes, Nicole C. Mullins dazzles the Covenant crowd. The artist's performance on the chapel lawn was one of the first CAB events in the 2002-2003 school year.

Performing a required concert that the student body was invited to attend, Rebecca Tuggy accompanies Jenny Brown while Sarah Funke turns pages.



Peeking out from behind a snow-covered tree, Jenny DeJong and Eliza Coulter make a pretty picture. Although the snow makes many people have red and runny noses, those that don't see snow much (and even many that do) still love to play in it.

Gripping on tightly to the sides of her toboggan, Melanie Bosma gets ready to sled down a snowy hill. Although sledding may be fun, people have to make sure that they take proper precautions before sliding down just any hill. The sledding paths could be icy and trees could get in the way.

Huddling closely to one another, Lola Rodriguez, Jasmine Cox, and Charissa Baker stand out in the cold. Fortunately for these girls, they had warm clothes, hats, and scarves to bundle against the weather. Many students, not expecting the extreme cold, did not have their warmest clothing.

A large group of approximately 15-20 Covenant students decided one evening to build a gigantic snowman. With the amount of snow that had fallen, it wasn't too hard to find the snow. The hard part was making it all stick together in the shape of a snowman and finding a way to get to the top to add more snow.

Frosty January Snow Days make people bundle up

Unexpected freezes make for happy college students. When snow days come, school has to be cancelled because it is too dangerous for many professors to drive to their classes. So, instead of trudging to class, students play in the snow. They make snowballs and they have snowball fights. They make snow angels, snow cones, snow men, etc... But it's not just what you do with the snow, it's what you do on the snow as well. Despite warnings, many students grab tobaggans and head for the hills to go sledding. Some students take folding chairs, matresses, trash can lids, dinner trays, or anything else that could possibly slide in the snow. Whatever one does in or with the snow, it helps everyone avoid homework!

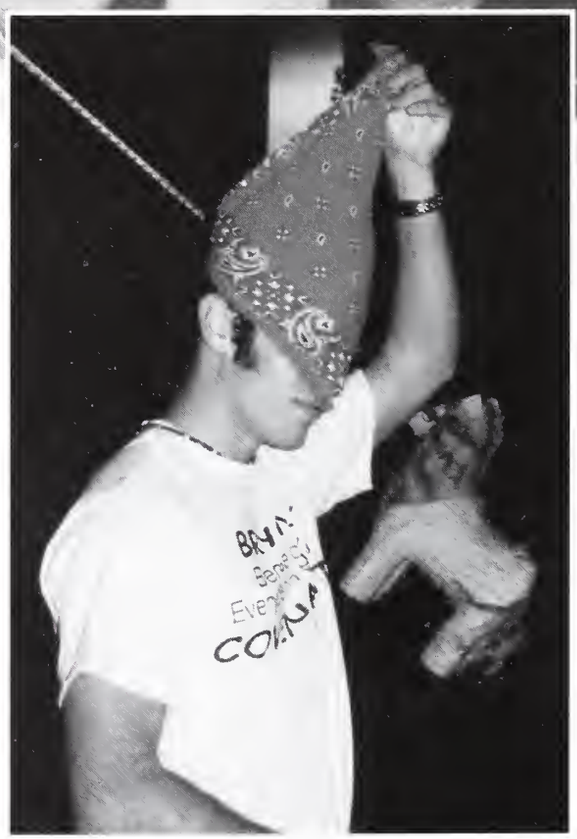
The head of the gigantic snowman somehow got transplanted to the chapel steps after several days of melting snow.

One of the worst things that snow does is make the steps slippery. Numerous students sprained their ankles trying to walk up or down slippery steps that were covered in ice.

Amazingly one morning, there was ice all over everything, but no snow remained on the ground. The ice, moved all night by wind, was shaped in sideways icicles.

In order to attract more attention to the courtyard between MacLellan and Founders, Dan Adams and several others of the Pipe and Drums corps played music.

Cheering on the men's soccer team, a group of girls from 4th South in Carter show off their new Covenant t-shirts. The soccer game against Bryan produced some very intense fan reactions on both sides. However, Covenant's talented team pulled off another win despite the rallying of the Bryan fans.

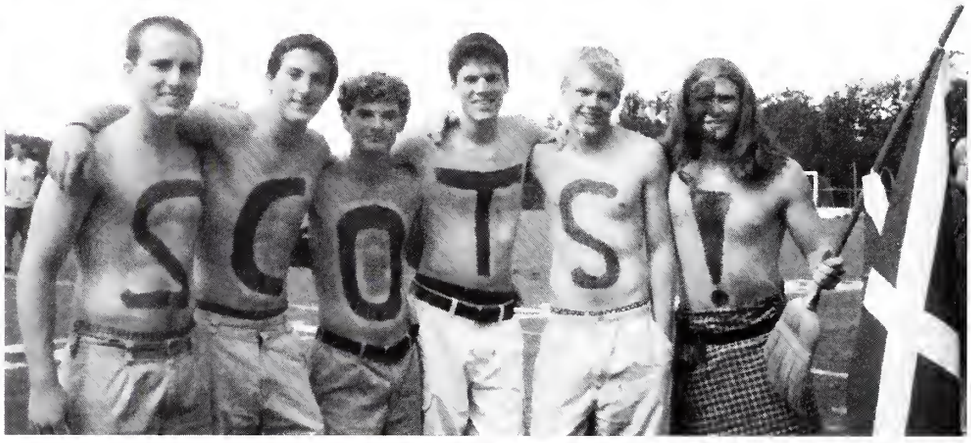


Taking off his bandana blindfold, Bo Lancaster wants to check and see the damage he's done. The pinata was part of the fundraiser for MacLellan Council.

Toting his drum, Matt Fray provides an extra bass line for the music created during the fundraiser selling Covenant t-shirts.

We have COVENANT SPIRIT through and through

Whether it's at a soccer game with dozens of other fans or at a volleyball game with only a few loyal fans, you can always tell Covenant has Spirit. Most Covenant students, when asked if they own a Covenant t-shirt, would reply, "Only one?" When the guy's soccer team went to the NAIA finals, Covenant Spirit was very apparent. While other teams had only a few straggling fans, Covenant brought a busload and more full of students, all willing to freeze their fingers and chap their lips to yell "We are the Scots, we come from the Mountain!" while waving the blue and white of the Scottish flag.



Braving the cold with bare chests, Ellis Chaplin, Rob Chaplin, Justin Borger, Christopher Taylor, Justin Johnson, and Nathan Hall prove just how much spirit they have and how much they're willing to give to support their team.

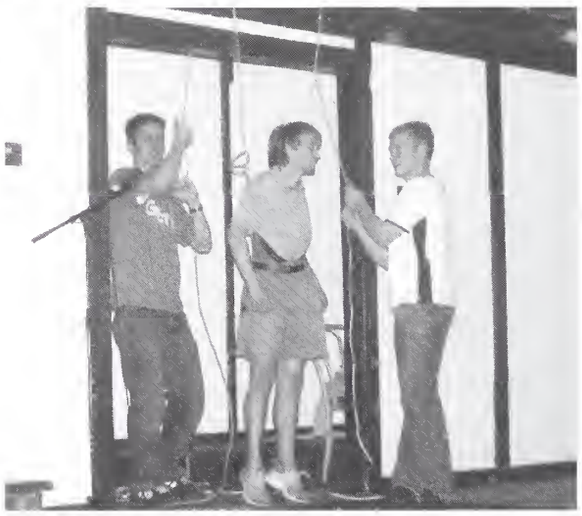
Applauding a good play by the basketball team, Katie Randolph, Lauren Burr, Rachel Demoss, Betsy Moran, Kelly Anderson, and Todd Willison proudly wear their Covenant vs. Bryan t-shirts.

Selling t-shirts as a fundraiser for MacLellan Council, Bo Lancaster, Beth Sloan, and Emily Gosselink try to convince Joanna Mikhail that she too should join the throng of those who have already bought the shirts.

what happens on Skit Nights when people go crazy?

From Greased Lightning to a cowboy hat, every outfit during a dorm's skit night is unique. But that's really the point, isn't it? To come up with something unique that nobody else has done yet. To win the prize for having the best skit. People use various techniques to achieve what they think will be the best skit. Some include faculty or staff members in their skits. Some do the most outrageous thing they can think of. In the Tour de Carter skits, many times people just go for the "shock value" of their skit. Catacombs often has the same idea for their skits in Founder's skit night. However your friends feel the skit may have gone, it's completely up to the judges to decide who wins overall. So the best bet is probably to figure out what the judges want and stick to that.

Keeping up with the tradition of Rivendell and the J.R.R. Tolkein tales of hobbits, dwarfs, and elves, Rivendell creates a skit with fancy costumes and lots of planning. Rivendell even had a movie to start off their skit.



Planning only a minute beforehand, Ghetto decides to do a stunt which includes playing a game that causes Chet Hutchinson to receive an "atomic wedgie." Ghetto got third place in the skit portion of Tour de Carter.

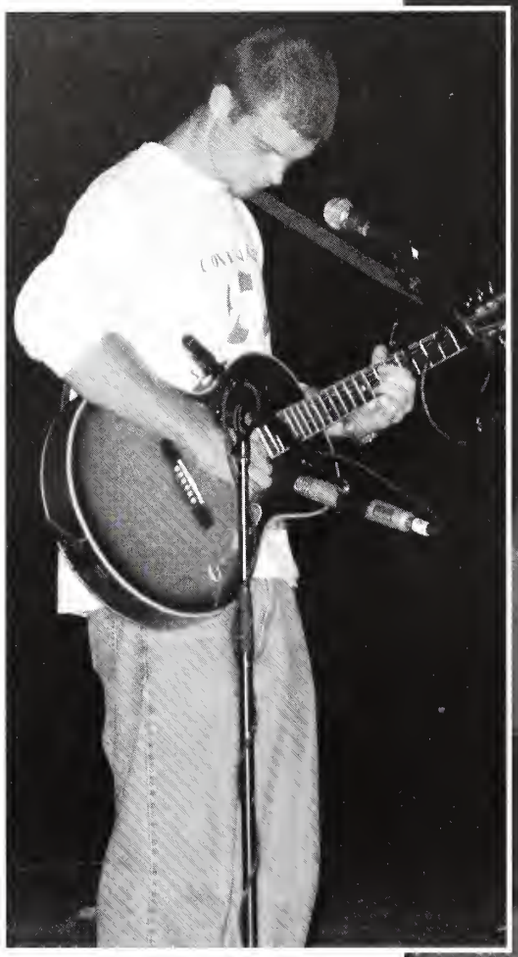
Dr. Niel Nielson poses as "the perfect guy" in Jungle's skit during Founder's skit night. The hall chose to go through different "types" of guys, turning down the thought of dating each one, until finally a good Christian guy from UTC shows up - namely, Dr. Nielson.

After digging through their wardrobes to find just the right thing, the girls on Balcony created outfits to stereotype different kinds of girls in school.

Waiting for his cue to begin, Jared Farquar stands alone on the stage to begin the Blackwatch skit. Blackwatch won the Founders Skit Night with their skit making fun of shorts with text on the back of them.

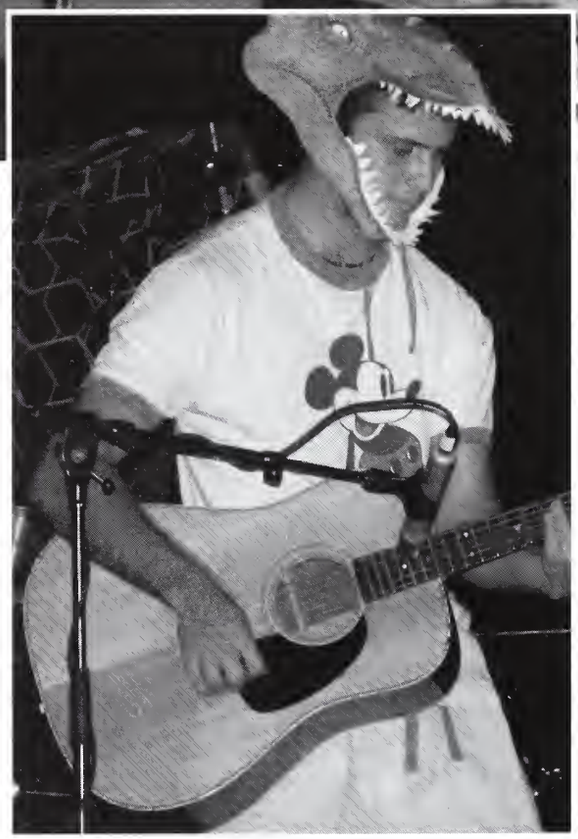
Starting his leap over several chairs, Joe Faust is encouraged by Mike Schout. Joe's hall, 2nd South, won the skit portion of Tour de Carter with their agility and skill in being able to leap over numerous chairs from the Great Hall.

DJing his hall's skit Bob Nickles goes for shock value with an outfit that appears to consist of a suspended box with a cummerbund.



Debuting for the first time on stage, John Uthlaut tries out a new song he's written. John performed with Dave Fidati, alternating between lead and backup.

Breaking with the trend of playing guitar, Dan Adams sits behind his drum set. Dan played with four other guys, Rob Holmes, Seth Park, Kyle MacKillop, and Tim Fridsma. The group, called "Served to Raise," played two songs: "Red Orange" and "Become New."



Playing as a part of a larger group band, Bo Lancaster sports the head of a raptor. Bo was one of the group of guys who went to kilter dressed as raptors.

Burning at The Stage during homecoming

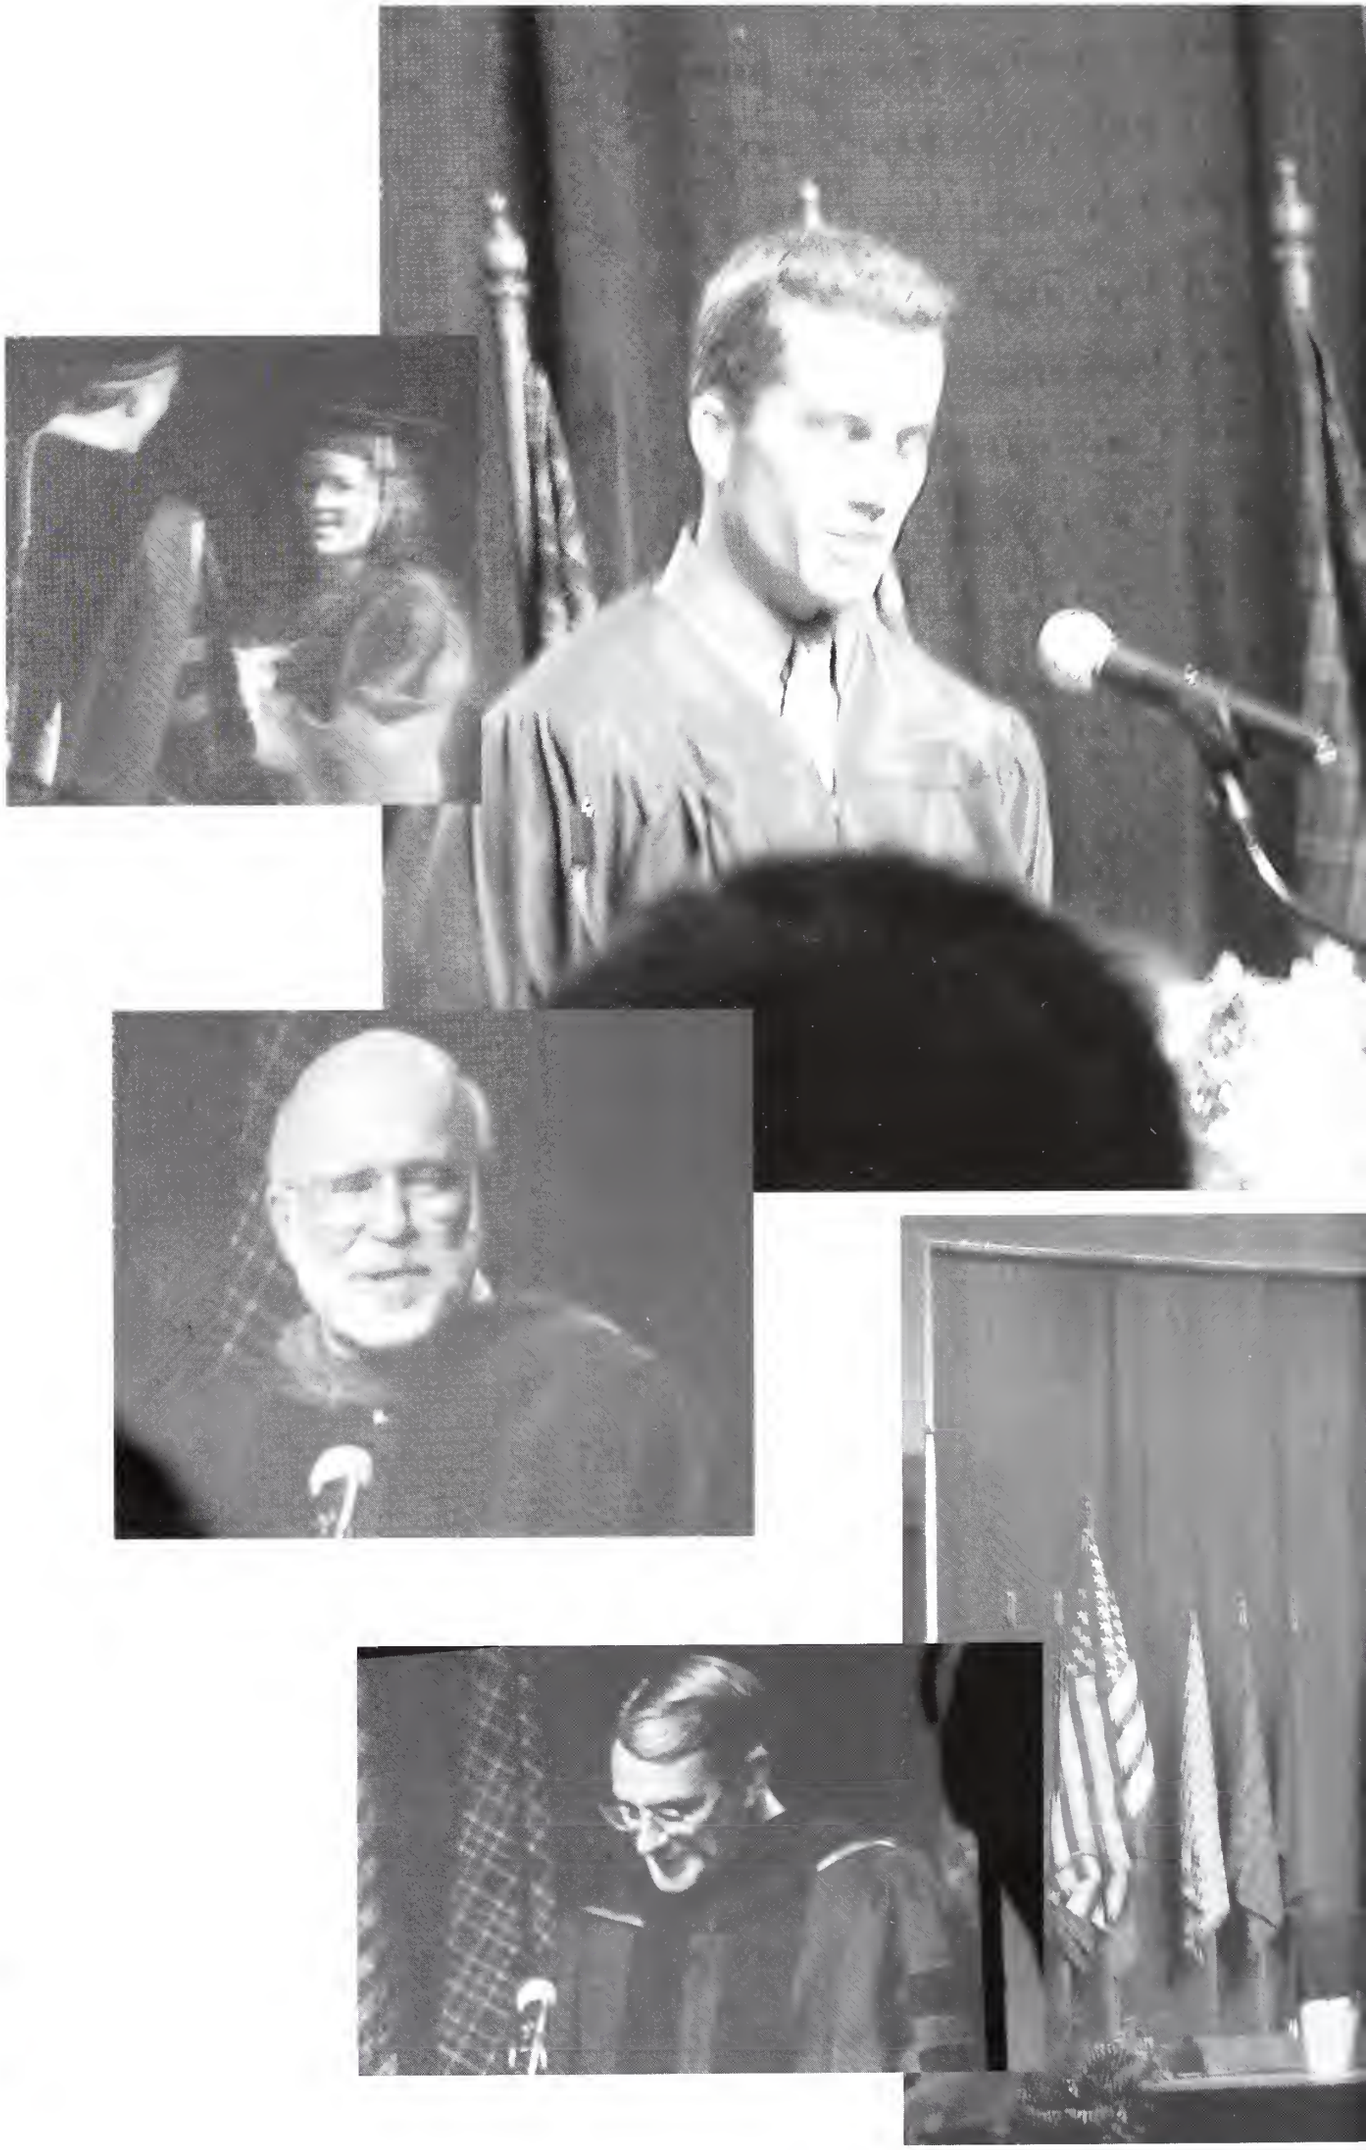
Standing at ease while singing her song, Bekah Stortz impresses her audience with her vocal range. Bekah is no stranger to the microphone, she has recorded several songs on cd and she often leads the worship songs at Reformed University Fellowship on campus.

It's a tradition. Every homecoming, every year, students get ready to perform on a makeshift stage out on Highlands soccer field. Many students drive to the field because it is pretty far to walk. However, some do make the trek all the way there. It's just worth it. Upon arriving, students are greeted by a blazing bon fire and the smell of roasting marshmallows, melted chocolate, sweet cinnamon apple cider, and of course, hot chocolate. Unlike most performances, Burning at the Stage is a "drop-in" type of event, though many people stay through the whole thing to hear everybody and to critique those who performed. For first time performers, Burning at the Stage is a good experience because it's dark outside, but there is a giant light shining in the performer's eyes, so he or she cannot see his or her audience.

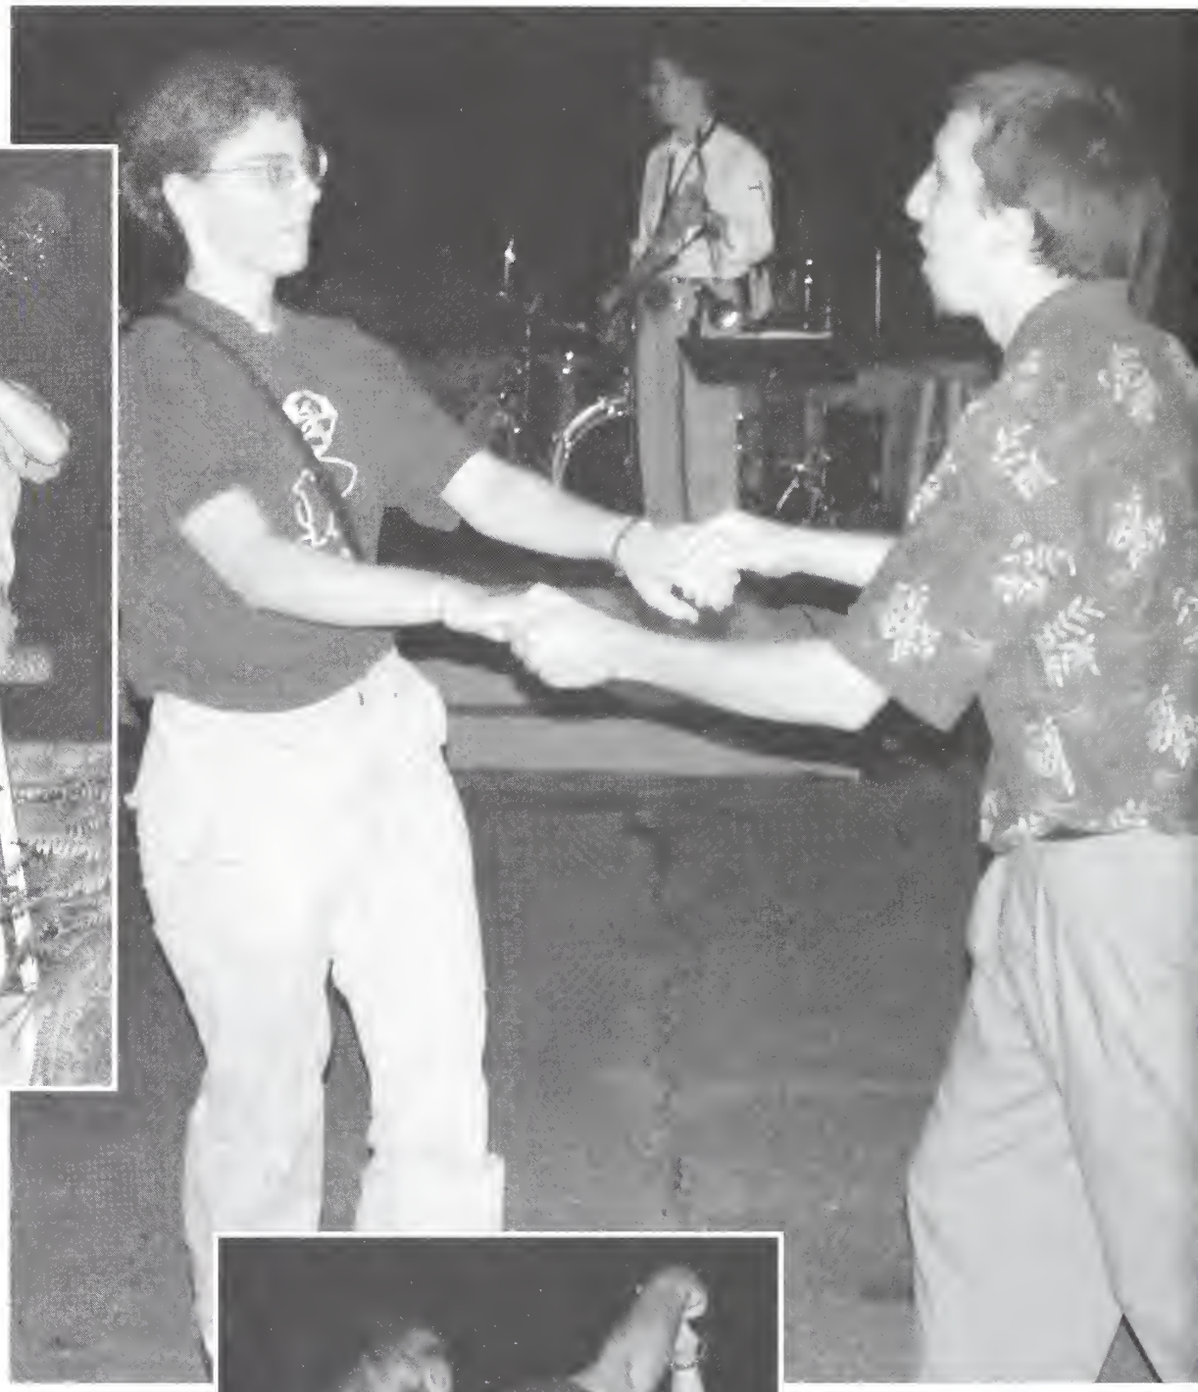
Many students have either taught themselves how to play the guitar or learned from someone they know. In either case, the guitar was certainly the most popular instrument at Burning at the Stage.

Playing a song he wrote himself, Dave Fidati gives his full attention to his music. The name of the song Dave played for Burning at the Stage was called, "I Wish I Could."

Getting into the emotion of their music, Jordan Chapell, Matt Sloan, and Patrick Moore create a powerful trio.



Graduation 2003



Balancing his bass against his knee, a member of Meta4 draws his bow across the strings. Many people don't realize what an integral part of jazz music the bass instrument is.

Getting into the true spirit of the event, Tabitha Higgins dances with alumni Tim Larson. After living on Lookout Mountain for a number of years, Tabitha knows quite a few alumni.

Twisting his partner around, Nathan Hall proves that he's no beginner in Swing Dance. Nathan has taught quite a few people how to Swing Dance at the Swing Dance club at Covenant..

The Stony OVERLOOK gets all jazzed up

Belting out the blues from his saxophone, a band member of Meta4 adds in his piece. When people think of jazz music, often the saxophone is what characterizes its style.

Let's get together, yeah yeah yeah! Well that's what CAB and the Covenant College Alumni Association were trying for when they set up the annual Jazz at the Overlook for Homecoming 2002. The event is done every homecoming. The jazz concert is mostly hosted by CAB but is also supported by the Alumni Association of Covenant College. The event is done in order to get the students together with alumni to meet each other and to get to know one another better. In the 2002-2003 school year, a jazz band by the name of Meta4 was hired to play at the overlook. The band played off the word "metaphor" to create a unique band name.

Keeping time with the rest of the band, the drummer of Meta4 taps out his own rhythm. The rhythm of a drum makes it easier to keep time when dancing as well.

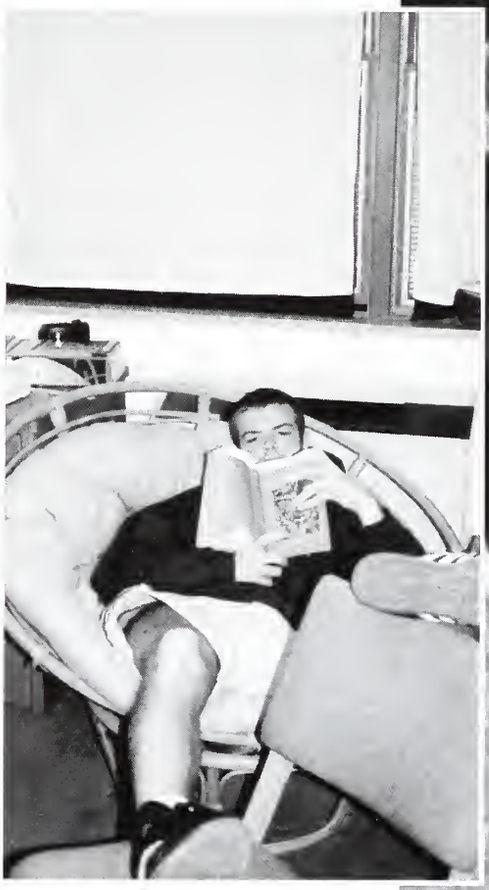
Trying out her swing moves, Elizabeth Proko catches the rhythm and beat of the jazz music around her.

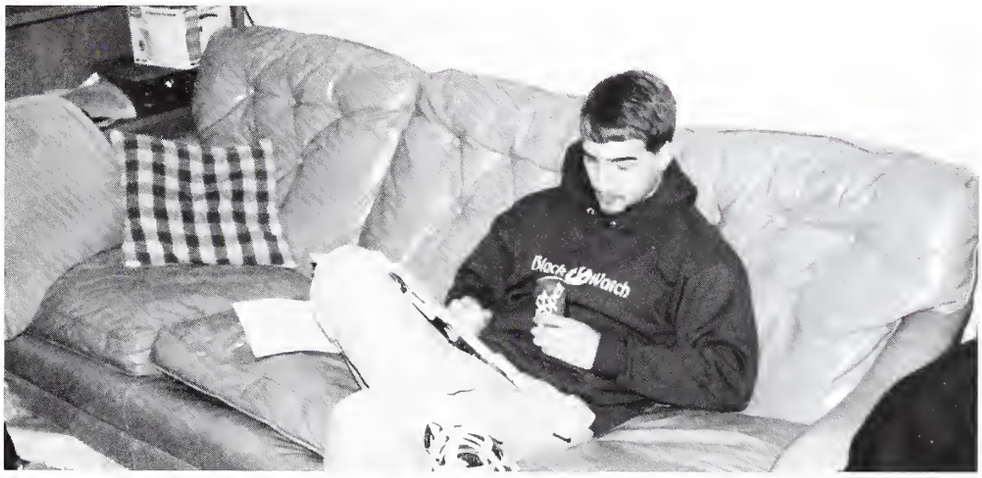
Learning swing together, Amy Deringer and Justin Borger try their hand at a simple swing step. Swing has a pretty simple four-step (or more complicated six-step) pattern to follow.

All that Studying makes for good grades

And good grades reflect that we're getting the best of what Covenant College has to offer: a solid liberal arts education which views the world from the perspective of truth. We're diverse in our backgrounds, our looks, our interests, our gifts and our study habits, but we all strive to use our education to bring glory to God and serve in his kingdom. We study, debate, meditate, and pray, and in all things we lift up Christ preeminent! We see ourselves as his ambassadors, eager to reflect our Lord in everything we do.

Studying for Cultural Heritage of the West II (CHOW II) is always a challenge, but John Uthlaut finds a comfortable place to fix his mind on the essays in his text.





Getting that essential shot of caffeine helps Jared Farquar concentrate on the paper he's writing.

The Rat Lab in Mills is the best place for Mary Kay Loomis to weigh her rat for the psychology class she is taking.

A grassy spot in the chapel courtyard serves as a sunny study place for Meg Deavor (left) and for Rachel Whitfield, who has brought her laptop computer outside.

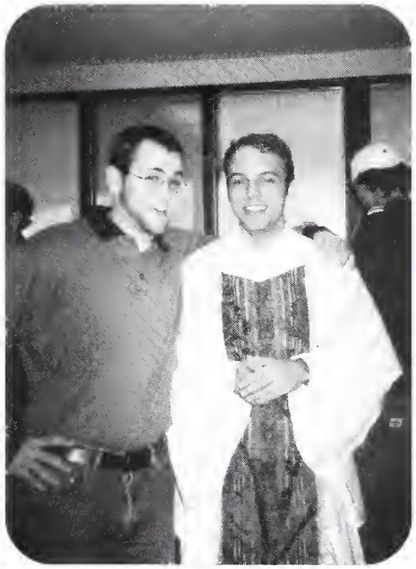
Engrossed in a book she is reading for a book review, Jess Sanders is unaware of the photograher capturing her likeness on film.

Music wafting through the mountain air on campus puts Melissa Withington in a good frame of mind to make corrections on the essay she is drafting.

Equipped with his state-of-the-art computers, Noel Weichbrodt can access anything he needs from the comfort and convenience of the secluded Bagpipe office downstairs under the Career Development office.

The Boys Next Door

Twelfth Night



Antigone

Making faces at one another, the group of Covenant students who went to Ireland pose in front of Queens University.

Taking advantage of the ministry of the Covenant Student who reached to them, these Mayan girls play with the balloon animal made for them in Mexico.

Sporting pairs of strange-looking shades, April Mininger and Jeanne Nunallee attempt to fit in with the New York locals on the Bowery Mission Trip over Spring Break.

Hanging out in front of a particularly decorated wall of grafitti, Jon Krueger, Jeanne Nunalle, Brant Gentry, Alicia Skrivan, and April Mininger take a stance.

New York to Ireland, Break on Impact goes around the world

Over the ten days of Spring Break, a good number of Covenant students decided to ignore the beaches of Florida and head to completely different cultures altogether. The trips allow the students to see a different aspect of life than they would normally be in contact with up on the secluded Lookout Mountain. They also allow the students to get to know one another better in a more personal way, working through challenges of hard labor and tight living space. The main purpose of the trips however, is to get to know God a little more personally and to see Him as a God of all cultures - for both the "Jews" and the "Gentiles."

Unwinding after a long day's work, Covenant students who went to Mexico chill out on a rock outside the mission.

Climbing what is said to be the road of giants, students on the Ireland Break on Impact trip look over the Causeway.

Relaxing with the children at the Esperanza Mission, Rachel Hackenberger and Geoff Glenister take time to get to know them better.

Raising funds for the Bowery Mission

Benefits many people

Those that headed to New York for the Bowery Mission there had to do quite a bit of planning to allow themselves to get there. Not only did each individual have to make sure his or her Spring Break was free, but he or she also had to gain support through letters and other means. One of the best fundraisers done for those going on the Bowery Mission trip was the Bowery Benefit concert, which was made up of many different performers all heading to New York for their Spring Breaks.

Doing his part to help out the Bowery Mission, Jade Alger contributes to the performances during the benefit concert. Jade had been to the Bowery Mission in a previous year, and, like many others, felt compelled to support those going this year.

Praising the Lord with joyful singing and with clapping and dancing, the Gospel choir certainly makes their point. God should be praised in whatever endeavors we undertake - whether it be spending Spring Break on the beach or in a shelter witnessing to a homeless man your own age.

Full of hype and energy, Michelle Higgins takes over the conducting of the gospel choir. Michelle felt that her part to contribute to the drawing in of support would be to involve the gospel choir in the benefit concert.

With two very different stringed instruments and a drum set, the band Infradig has no problem creating their own unique style. The band's drummer, got involved in the concert through his mother, Susan Green.

Introducing the performer to follow, Susan Green cracks several jokes. Susan became everyone's "surrogate mom" on the Bowery Mission Trip.

Working with a capo, John Uthlaut captures the attention of the crowd with his music. John bought his guitar from Dan Meyers, who has performed at Covenant himself and now travels around the world with his ministry of music.

Strumming his guitar to a song he wrote, Rob Heiskell sings into the microphone. Rob was an integral part of drawing in people to come to the benefit concert to help raise funds for the Bowery Mission Trip.

In deep concentration, Kelly Ryan watches the stage at Baker Tree. Many students took the time to sunbathe or study during the festivities at Baker Tree.

Playing in the corner of the mailroom in Carter Hall, Josh Green taps out a rhythm. Josh is part of a band called Infradig who played at the first night of Baker Tree. The band played a series of techno-style songs that a jam-packed room danced to for several hours.

In an unusual position for a performer, Morris Yaegashi belts out a song. Many students who were standing in the back of the mail room during the Infradig concert were confused, not sure where the voice was coming from.

Showcasing Musical Talent all across campus

Wearing a blue and white checkered "Dorothy" style dress, Luke Carrier holds up a sign for his future roommate Austin Branson saying "Austin I'm pregnant!"

A few years back there was a guy named Baker who used to sit in a tree which was located where the round area of the chapel courtyard is now. People began to call that tree the "Baker Tree." Years later, after the tree has been cut down and nobody has any idea who that Baker guy was, we still have a festival named after them - The Baker Tree Festival. Probably CAB's biggest event of the year, Baker Tree usually falls toward the end of the school year to allow students to relax before the big crunch of exams. With Inflated games set up and music in the background, balls flying through the air or being kicked on the ground, the Baker Tree Festival has something that pretty much every college student can enjoy doing.

Up on stage alone, Austin Branson sings to the crowds below. Austin's mom came to give her son support as he performed live in front of so many friends and peers.

Attempting to pursuade Becca Nash to buy a CAB t-shirt, Mary Higgins gives her the "come on, you know you want to" look.

Without the use of AV services, none of the perfomances would have been able to be heard. These individuals take the time to set up before and take down after any concerts that the college hosts.

BAKER TREE

Dancing on the floor of the Chattanoogan hall, Andrew Kaufmann shows off his style. While the food disappeared, people got up and danced.

With a typical "Spring Banquet Pose," Beth White and David Polk smile broadly. David drove from Linden, Michigan in order to take Beth to Spring Banquet.

Sporting a uniquely styled suit, Jared Higgins shows off a metal chain tie with a scoop vest in a dark marroon. Many people appreciate when someone is willing to express himself and herself through unique clothing.

Formalwear for Spring Banquet is always special

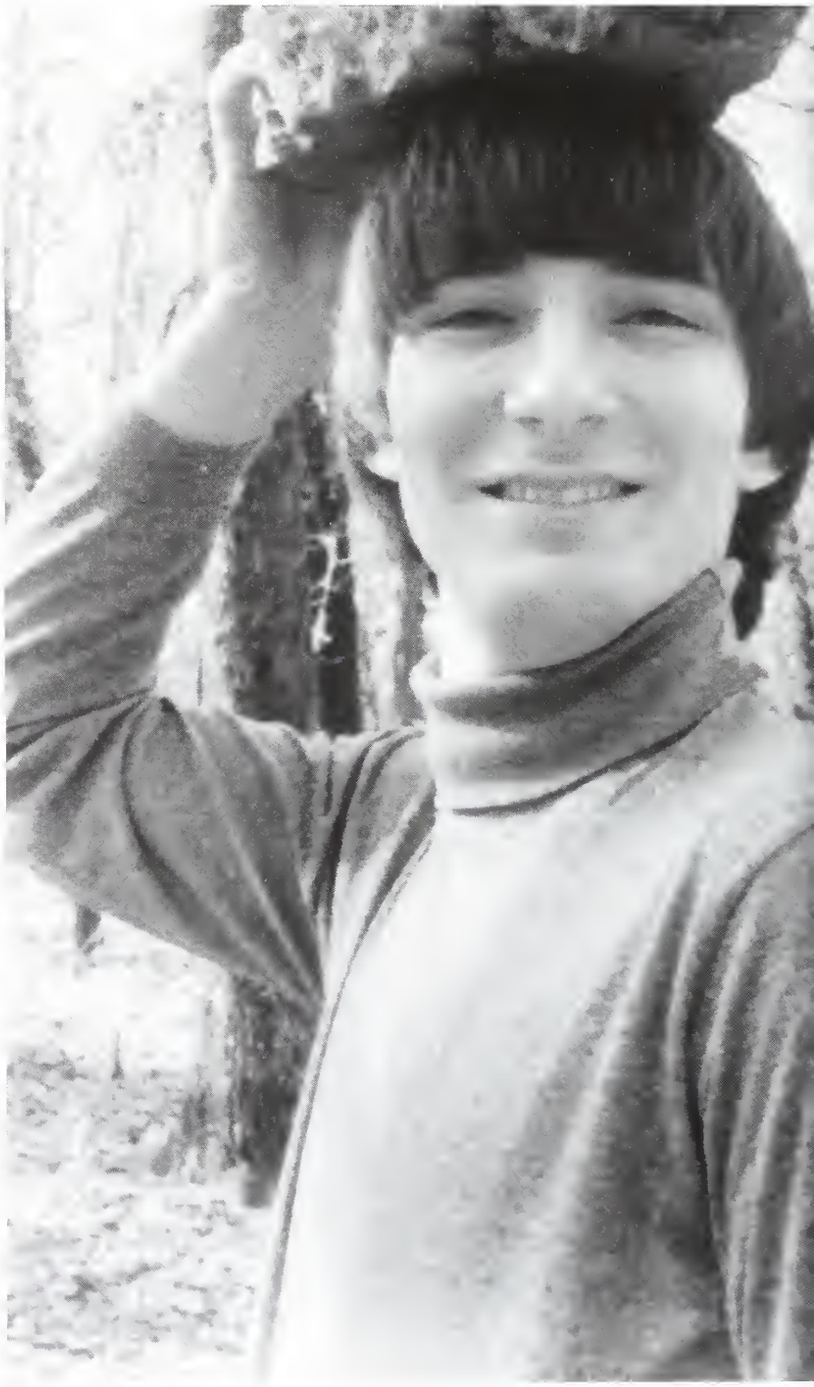
Practicing their dance moves before the banquet starts, Paul Weinhold and Ginny Holton get in a good shot for the memory books.

A night of eating and dancing with friends. What more could you ask for? Many students felt this way when planning for Spring Banquet. With a delectable-looking menu at The Chattanoogan downtown, the night was shaping up pretty well. Despite their hunger, many students headed for the dance floor as soon as the music began to play. The DJs began with a few jazz songs during the time when most people were eating, but switched to rap when everyone began to pile onto the floor. Several groups headed down to Coolidge Park after the banquet was over, spending time just hanging out with one another and enjoying each other's company.

In a typical line-up style, Rebekah Meador, Lydia Fullalove, Beth White, and Ginny Holton stand by the fireplace.

Stopping to talk to some friends, Micah Rayburn and Anna Quirk take a break. Anna came all the way from Omaha, Nebraska so that she could come to Spring Banquet with Micah.

Every girl wants flowers at Spring Banquet. However, depending on your budget, there are several different varieties of bouquets you can choose from. A dozen regular roses is $14.95. A dozen sweetheart/mini roses is $9.99. If your budget can't squeeze that out, you can get a pretty bouquet of assorted flowers for only $4.99.



It was a new year and Covenant had a new president. We welcomed Niel and celebrated the arrival of the Nielson family. We wondered what he would be like, and we wondered what he would like.

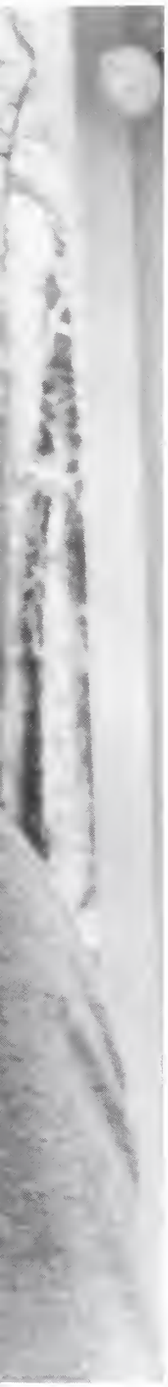
We learned, along with the things we learned in class, that Dr. Nielson was passionate, that he loved God, and that he was growing to love Covenant. We learned that he wants Covenant to be known for an uncompromising commitment to the Lord Jesus Christ, to his preeminence in all things, to the fact that the universe belongs to him, and that he wants Covenant to be known as a place that worships and serves God. He wants Covenant to be known as a place that provides a rigorous academic challenge and provides a first-rate education in light of who Christ is and in light of the word of God.

We learned that he wants to fill the world with motivated and courageous Christians—that Covenant should be a place that sends people of God into places where the truth of Christ hasn't yet been fully proclaimed and where it has been forgotten and where it has been denied. We learned that he sees Covenant graduates as warriors and servants.

We learned that he was a good sport and very willing to be in hall skits and hall videos.

We learned that he loves meeting new people—at the college and on the road—and learning about them: getting to know their hearts and strengths and gifts and seeing how he and they and Covenant can work together.

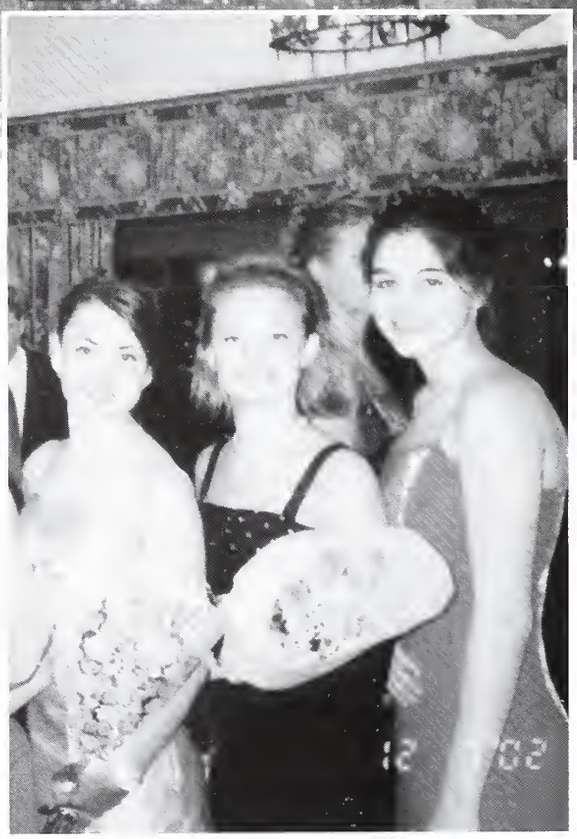
And so we learned to follow our new leader.



Dr. Niel Nielson

Presiding as Lord of the Manor, Bill Higgins creates a Medieval atmosphere. He is often quoted as saying things such as "Attention: There is a carriage outside hailing from the county of Virginia which has left its front lanterns burning."

Performing mystifying magic tricks and telling humorous jokes, the Court Jester keeps the guests cntertained throughout the evening. His face is familiar to those who have been to Madrigals before, as he has been acting as Court Jester for as long as most people can remember.



Dressed to the nines, Lynnette Oss, Alicia Belcher, and Amy Deringer pause for a moment before going in to sit down with their dates for Madrigals.

Performers at Madrigals sing for their supper

Changing from his everyday shorts-and-t-shirt style, Jordan Chapell wears a typical medieval costume for Madrigals. All of the Madrigals singers wore outfits that they would have worn in an earlier era when troubadours travelled the world extensively.

Stepping back in time, guests to the Madrigals performance are sent to the Medieval era where clothing was more decorative and life was simpler. The Great Hall is transformed completely when decorated with the boughs and garlands strung all over the room. With performers on all sides of the room, all of the audience has a chance to be close to the action, and those people on the edges might get first dibs on their much awaited multiple-course dinner. Not only are the performers put into a Medieval character, but the servers, called "wenches," are also dressed in the clothing of a typical Medieval server: long bolts of material sewed together in a simple pattern with a simple cloth hair bandana. It is a privilege not only to be able to watch the Madrigals performance, but also to be asked to perform.

Standing to sing between courses of food, the Madrigals singers are forced to eat within a specific time frame.

Kicking back after a long performance, Andrew Kaufmann lounges on a couch in Carter lobby.

With arms around each other, these friends make no distinction between guest, performer, and server. Debbie Nisbet, a Madrigals singer, performed for friends Jessica Sanders, Heidi Kaufmann, and Erika Olson while Karen Turgeon worked in the kitchen serving food.

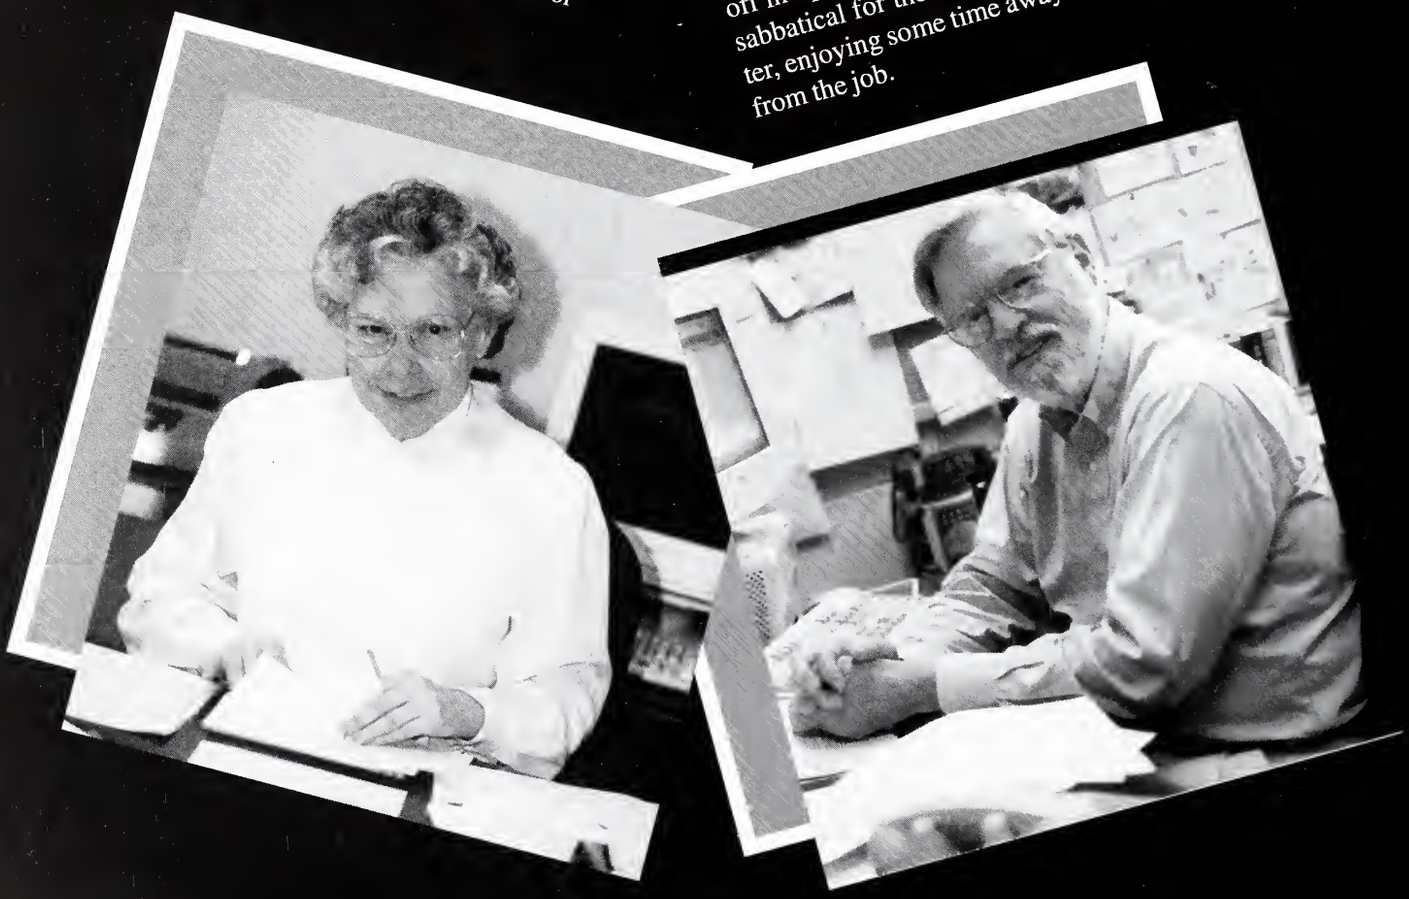
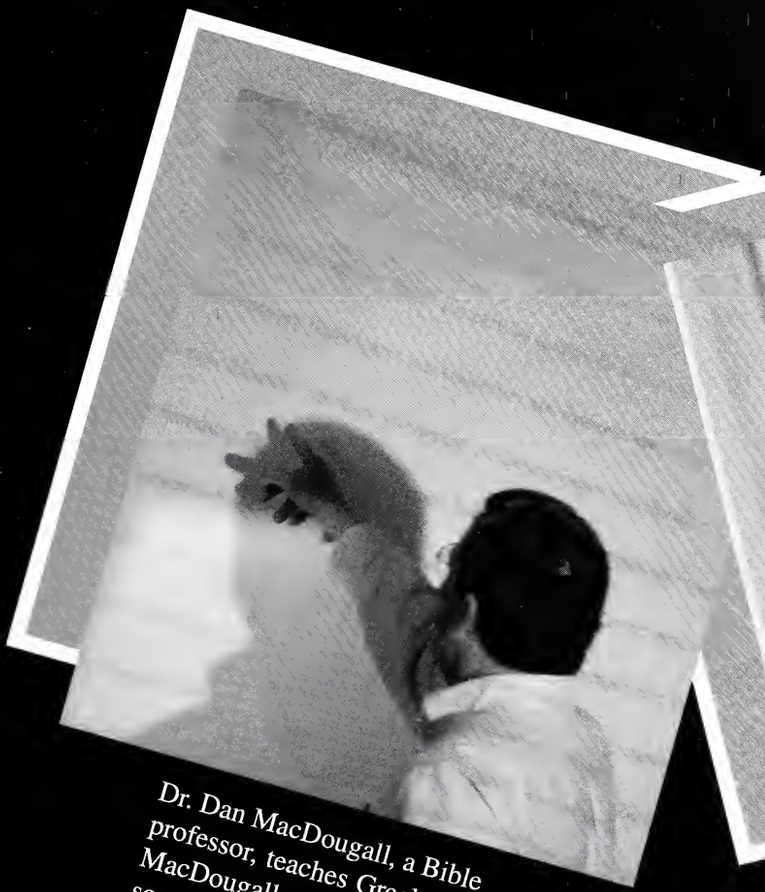
Phyllis Crooks has worked in the accounting office for years. She knows what she's doing when it comes to numbers, that's for sure.

Nick Barker, an English professor, was able to spend some time off in Spring 2003. He was on sabbatical for the entire semester, enjoying some time away from the job.





Dr. Dan MacDougall, a Bible professor, teaches Greek. Dr. MacDougall was surprised when some of his students switched out a Greek transparency and replaced some of the words with other, more comical ones.

Barb Michals served in the Priesthill Center during the 2002-2003 school year. She has seen everything from simple viruses to sprained ankles to even broken bones.

Residence Life

Carter Hall

Resident Director: Mallory Dean

Carter Hall has easily found a place in the hearts of Mallory and Jessica Dean this year. They have found the students open and excited about new ideas as well as dedicated to some of the traditions, some of which Mallory and Jessica are already familiar with. Mallory and Jessica Dean are both alumni from Covenant and were R.A.'s together during which time they quickly became friends. The Deans started dating after graduating from Covenant while Mallory was getting his masters in Marriage and Family Therapy from RTS in Jackson, Mississippi. During Mallory's first year in Mississippi he was also a Resident Director at Belhaven College and the next year Mallory and Jessica both worked as Resident Directors at Mississippi College. After they were married in May 2002, they started looking ahead to returning to Covenant to work as Resident Director in Carter Hall.

Jessica is an elementary school teacher at The Bethlehem Academy for Boys, an all boys, inner city school. She loves her work there during the day and enjoys coming home afterwards and building relationships with Covenant students. Mallory has a desire to continue learning about Student Development and enjoys his work with college students. They both look forward to continuing their work here and are excited to see how the Lord will use them in the lives of students. Carter Hall has truly been blessed by their hard work and loving spirits.

Ghetto

Ghetto is a brotherhood of intentional relationships that seeks excellence in all that it does. These guys are deeply devoted to each other because of their mutual deep devotion to Christ. Their goal is to build one another up as a means to building up the body of Christ. As a unified hall, the unstoppable guys landed first place in Tour de Carter and second place in Carter Skit Night this year.

2nd Central

Kevin Struyk (RA), Adam Belz, Jeremy Brooker, Collin Chapell, John Davis, Chris Fain, Sean Flynn, T.J. Flynn, Matthew Gillikin, Tyler Grisham, Zach Hubbs, Aaron Jackson, Chris Kornman, McGee Lapish, Josh Lee, Jon Lillie, David Neiles, Micah Rayburn, David Robertson, Matt Sloan, Chris Stanley, Jonathan Strauss, Ethan Struck, Zach Wood, and Mark Wright

2nd Central is, in their own words, "The stage of a great play." Central is home to the Breakfast Club, brother hall to 3rd Central, sponsor hall wrestling matches, and they have Dot Hunter as their Hall Mom — what more could you ask for?

2nd South

2nd South is a many-faceted hall. They boast being the largest guys hall on campus with 36 men (and two girlfriends). Their diversity is endless, representing 17 states and 3 different countries, not to mention Manville. They have two sister halls this year: 3rd South as their official sister hall and 3rd Central as their biological sister hall. The goal of the 2nd South men has been pure chivalry, having gained an impressive reputation for synchronized standing when a female approaches the dinner table.

3rd North

Tami Montgomery (RA), Debbie Anderson, Jennifer Brandon, Joanna Doerfel, Rebekah Emrich, Jennifer German, Morgan Hall, Elizabeth Kanavel, Anna Kaufmann, Buzzy Majauskas, Keri McGovern, Joanna Mikhail, Kathryn Neiles, Veronica Pribyl, Courtney Rayburn, Ashley Rigby, Lizzy Roukas, Anje Suttle, Rochelle Taylor, Rachel Templeton, Ariel Trader, Tatiana Trevor, Amanda Watanabe, Caitlin Woodyard, and Hannah Zeller

3rd North is a smorgasbord of personalities and fun times. When you step onto this hall, you are greeted with a small taste of the joy for life that can be found in Christ. Descriptions for these girls have included boisterous, studious, musical, enthusiastic, involved, real, laid back, and creative. The fine young women of 3rd North are all different but still love each other and are growing together towards Christ.

3rd Central

Elissa Mather (RA), Melody Becker, Kelsey Benson, Beth Brodersen, Heather Burdette, Angela Childers, Lauryn Clegg, Mary Catherine Drexler, Jenna Furman, Betsy Haluska, Stacey Holliday, Lauren Ireland, Lauren Johnson, Kristina Kimball, Emily Loderhose, Ashleigh Luther, Leslie Malone, Liz Mastin, Alecia McClard, April Mininger, Kim Musselman, Katie Musselman, Stephanie Phillips, Kelly Ryan, Heidi Schuler, Rachel Watanabe, Anna Weaver, Paige Weichbrodt, Rachel Wilks, and Tricia Williams

As a hall, 3C is a small glimpse of the sincere love and vital joy that is possible only through Christ. These "roommates in the Lord" joined together in their creative and performing genius to snag first place in both Carter Skit Night and the Carter Christmas Party. Proudly supporting two brother halls this year, Second Central was 3C's official brother hall while Second South was biologically connected. The memories 3C shares are endless: Dress and Go Freak Shows, the Betsy Campaign, 3C Wrestling, and more. Third Central, where every dinner is a hall dinner!

3rd South

Lindsay Allen (RA), Paige Anderson, Rebekah Brightbill, Kacie Brown, Ruth Caines, Rachel Camp, Lindsey Cheney, Rachel DeMoss, Emily Eckardt, C.J. Eisenburg, Laurie Elwood, Laura Fearnow, Candice Hill, Janna McIndoe, Kaitlyn Newman, Tessa Pettit, Beth Phillips, Katie Randolph, Hannah Smuda, Jennifer Vaughan, Allison White, Katherine Whitmire, Aimee Wilson, and Rachel Wofford

3rd South = many different girls joined together by laughter and crazy doings. These young women reflect Christ by learning to live together in harmony by relying on the common bond in Christ between them all and pulling together to support one another. On 3rd South "they don't have friends, they have each other."

4th North

Jeanne Nunnallee (RA), Mary Bell, Katy Butterfield, Katie Gillies, Lindsey Latta, Rikki McKain, Katie Mitchell, Elizabeth Monahan, Erica Racen, Rachel Sasscer, Monica Schrupp, Aubrie Smith, Kara Smith, Jill Somers, and Emmie Weir

Cool stuff comes in small packages on 4th North. These girls go out of their way to serve one another. They have had an exciting year together, coming together to create fun memories; even though they haven't won anything official they are still remembered for their self-awarded best hall skit involving a kiddie pool.

4th Central

Alicia Skrivan (RA), Erin Aucker, Megan Barber, Annah Kate Brakin, Kim DeWinkle, Julie Duke, Erin Gardner, Crystal Geoghegan, Jenny Hansinger, Sarah Julien, Mary Lambert, Amanda Lewis, Jennine McNeill, Elizabeth Proko, Alanna Ritchie, Molly Scott, Laura Scott, Megan Terrell, Lindsey Vasgaard, and Dana Zandstra

4th Central is a hall where the little memories mean the most, like the disturbing 7 fish casualties already this year. These girls are unafraid to voice the inner workings of the female mentality. "When a girl makes up her mind, it is definite . . . sometimes." And, they encourage one another to grow in Christ and never be satisfied with where they are in their walk. In short, 4th Central is a straight-talking accountability-keeping, memory-making machine.

4th South

Jessica Sanders (RA), Kelly Anderson, Martha Ball, Amy Blick, Meg Deaver, A.J. Estep, Alisa Finkle, Meghann Harris Emily Hudnall, Heidi Kaufmann, Mary Kay Loomis, Heidi McKinney, Olivia Moller, Debbie Nisbet, Erika Olson, Jessica Sanders, Karen Turgeon, Anne Uthlaut, Rachel Whitfield, Aubrey Wiener, and Kelli Ziemer

4th South is "the hall who cares." Home to Olympic Sledder Anne Uthlaut and World-renowned Chinese cellist Erika Olson, 4th South is also a home to champions. If Carter Council had an award for teamwork and enthusiasm, the women of this hall would sure be winners.

5th North

Bekah Tuggy (RA), Elsbeth Barnett, Jan Beery, Laura Bragdon, Hope Davis, Kathy Ellis, Tabitha Higgins, Laura Kaufmann, Sarah Hutton, Faith Larson, Keri Lawrence, Gretchen Lee, Emiliy Miller, Linnea Minich, Amanda Mulder, Marie Quillian, Sarah Rodenberg, Jamie Rosier, Amalia Selle, Bethany Simpson, Diana Walker, Anne Washburn, and Courtney Withington

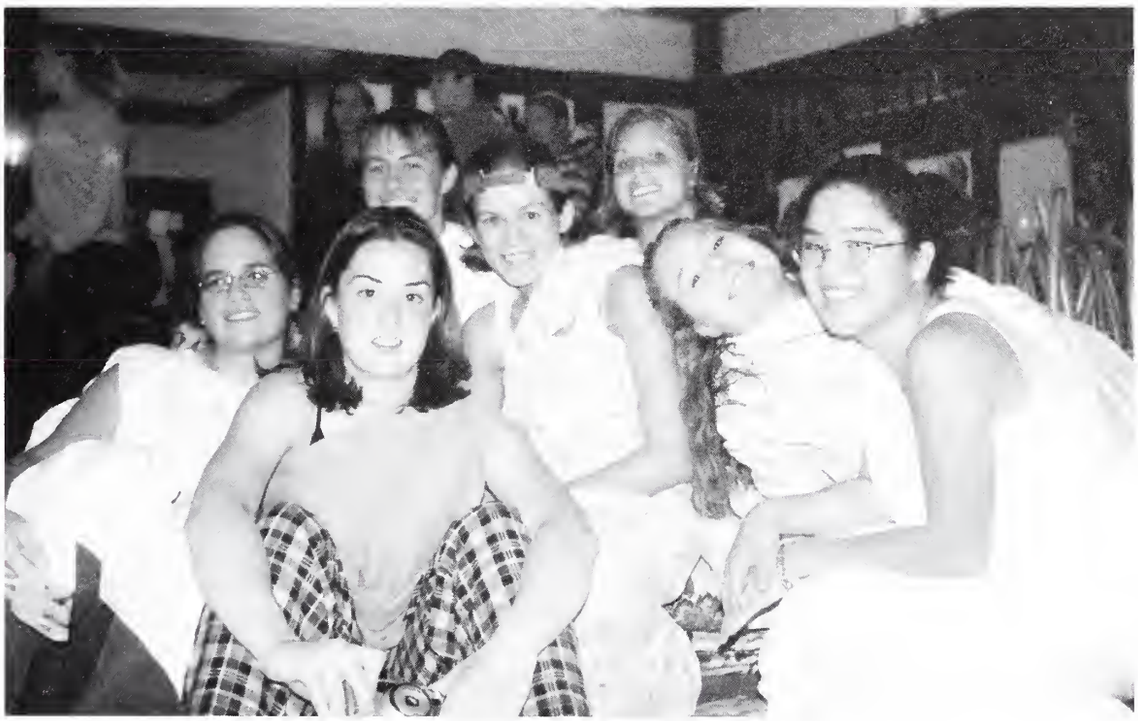
Our Shoes are on top of the world!

"The paradox of spiritual growth is that as faith deepens and brings with it new levels of joy and assurance, so also repentance deepens, bringing an evermore profound awareness of our need of Christ."

--Ferguson

5th South

Chari' Emerson (RA), Meagan Anderson, Karee Bradbury, Laura Bragdon, Lauren Counts, Katherine Crawford, Summer Decker, Amy Deringer, Kirsten Ferguson, Anna Garriot, Ruth Godfrey, Rebecca Hake, Melissa Iglesias, Deana Jack, Heather Ludlum, Mary Alice Meyer, Melanie Murray, Emily Nix, Lindsey Rahm, Ashley Raymond, Taryn Sikkema, Cynthia Todd



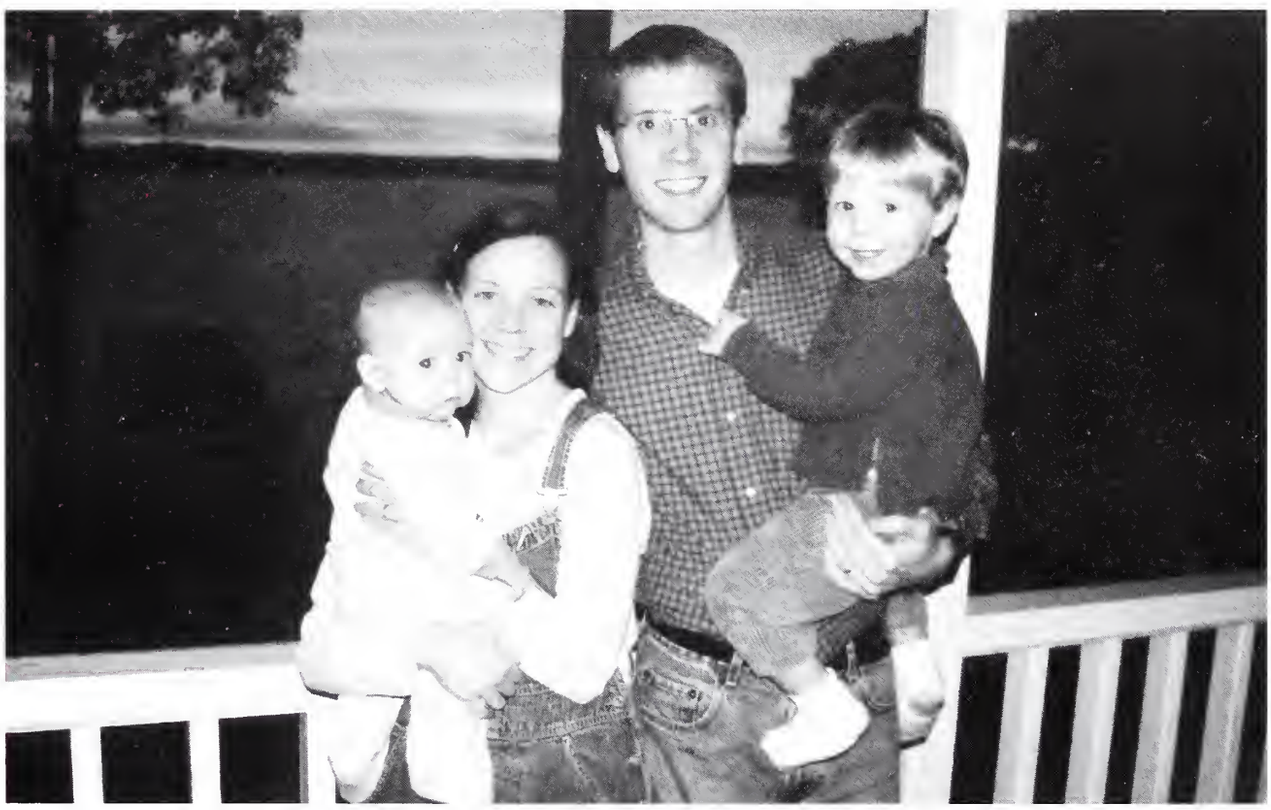
"We have an identity crisis - we are on the central axis, but are called south. . . . what is that all about?

"And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works: not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together as the manner of some is but exhorting one another is so much more as you see the day approaching." Hebrews 10:24-25

Founders Residence Hall

Resident Director:

Jeremy Jones



Balcony

Jenny Brown (RA), Joanna Barnes, Kathryn Brightbill, Emily Brown, Lauren Burr, Julie Codington, Michelle Collins, Elizabeth Danielson, Sarah Funke, Anna Funke, Heidi Herberich, Rebekah Larson, Betsy Moran, Lynnette Oss, Amy Roark, Mary Posey, Barbara Strong, Rebecca Tucker, and Jennifer Wharton

Balcony represents the most diversity you can get in a group of eighteen white girls and they claim Rivendell as their "boyfriend hall." These women are diligently pursuing their callings and encouraging one another to delight in them.

1st Belz

1st Belz is a mostly silly, past gregarious, more than thoughtful, often grateful, occasionally perturbed, seldom lonely, beyond cool, nearly crazy, always growing, never perfect group of gentlemen. Possessors of the "coolest pink t-shirts ever," 1st Belz was an almost exclusively freshman hall during this school year, with 5 notable exceptions. Always up for a challenge, these guys gave a fine showing at the Intramural Cross-Country Race, coming in first place! 1st Belz reflects their Savior though Hebrews 4:14-16, confidently drawing near to the throne of grace because of the greatness of Jesus, the High Priest.

Jungle

Ashley DeBardeleben (RA), Rachel Baldwin, Becca Bennett, Carrie Cardona, Caitlin Carini, Kristen Cortese, Becky Crocker, Deborah Curry, Megan Dager, Rebecca Davis, Rachel Flye, Rebekah Good, Aubren Hummell, Emily Jones, Angela Kirk, Laura Leavengood, Elizabeth Leight, NatalieLodico, Sophia Long, Jorden Patterson, Susannah Perry, Leslie Pfister, Rebecca Roos, Susanna Rowe, Kelly Schoon, Krissy Smith, and Janet Talley

Jungle is made of up a bunch of Kool Kats who like to stay up late, talk loudly, dance freely, party with Blackwatch, wrestle, act, think, sing, praise God, and fellowship together. They are a group of godly girls actively pursuing unity on the hall and intimacy with God. An interesting and often unknown fact about this crazy group is that Jungle has traditionally enjoyed talking to their brother hall Blackwatch through the vent in their hallway. They sometimes even listen to other conversations going on in each other's hallways.

Catacombs

As light broke upon the reign of Mesh the Jewish, chaos roiled the waters: diversity battled hegemony, community warred with solipsism, joy-sticks fought with drumsticks, the hippie blueprints were burned in effigy and the drugstore was sold out of Samaritans. It was a dawn leading not the brightness of day, but to an infinite under-graduate twilight: we knew not where we should journey, but we danced by our fires like the happiest of nomads.

G.K. Chesterton once said that God's most secret characteristic is his joy, his laughter. Whether they were wearing women's clothes to dinner, mourning the untimely passing of Jimmy Rollins, or roasting hot dogs for Christmas, perhaps the Catacombians reflected this joy by giving the campus a taste of just such pure, childlike happiness. They further demonstrated their Christian spirit by providing shelter for Micah Parsons, who was the most beautiful man on campus.

Loft

The Loft is a wonderful group of women who have become involved in each other's lives through bearing each other's burdens, praying for one another, laughing with each other and supporting each other. The hall is like Christ in its unity. Psalm 133.1 says, "How good and pleasant it is when [sisters] live together in unity!" And, Ephesians 4.3 encourages believers to "make every effort to keep the unity o the Spirit through the bond of peace." Loft is a living example the unity commanded in the Bible.

Blackwatch

Jesse Strow (RA), Chuck Anderson, Dave Baldwin, Austin Branson, Paul Calhoun, Mac Crockett, Jared Farquhar, Dave Fidati, Josh Friesen, Brandt Gentry, Ian Hard, Thomas Harper, Ben Krause, Mark Lovrien, Chris Magnuson, Joe Michener, David Murphy, Blaine Robinson, Timothy Sceggel, Jeremy Scripps, Joe Smuda, Tyler Strow, Mark Swanson, and John Uthlaut

Blackwatch has a variety of types of guys living together and interacting much like brothers and best friends. They are a reflection of Christ through their fellowship with one another and as they seek to help keep one another accountable in order to grow spiritually. As a well-dressed group of Christian brothers, they landed first place at Founder's Skit Night this year by strutting their stuff in fine blue shorts.

Gallery

In accordance with Isaiah 64.8, Gallery is a hall affirming that they are all clay in the Potter's hands. They are truly a gallery of God's masterpieces. The women on Gallery desire to celebrate the work of Christ in each of their lives, in the unique ways that He has created them. They strive to create refuge and a welcoming atmosphere for each other and all who come. For these reasons, Gallery is a reflection of the unity in love and refuge that Christ offers to his Beloved. And, in addition to their widely recognized hospitality, Gallery has the added distinctions of possessing a rubber chicken and having taught 1st Belz how to knit.

Rivendell

Haddon McKinney (RA), Phil Bleecker, Ben Calvert, Willie Cameron, Matt Carr, Joe Clark, Richard Fink, Mark Geib, Will Lefler, Stephen Majauskas, David Parkhurst, Jim Plunk, Bert Rutgers, Justin Stephens, Benji Swinburnson, Lionel Van der Westhuizen, and Octavius Wright

"Indeed there is a power in Rivendell." - JRR Tolkien

The men of Rivendell make up a fun group of guys who, unlike most guy halls, like to keep things clean (for example, they claim to have the best restrooms in founders). They also love to debate about movies, philosophy, and theology, but not necessary in that order or all at the same time. Ultimately they are a group of brothers who believe in strong relationships with Christ and with each other.

Highlands

Jenny Lea (RA), Joanna Barker, Alisha Belcher, Kate Bryson, Amanda Carrier, Robyn Chinaka, Kara Dickinson, Abby Duncan, Teri Hannula, Laura Hester, Carla Huxtable, Kari Ingelese, Joy Ray, Anya Russinova, Helen Vos, Anna White, Andrea Wilder, and Stephanie White

On Highlands, it's like a psych ward only better. In their excitement and crazy times, the women of this hall have joy personified. They also have daring and cunning personified: during Catacombs' yearly migration the Highland lasses boldly seized a number of prized Catacombian icons, including their venerated ark. "Behold her, single in the field, yon solitary Highland lass!" ~ Wordsworth

Caledon

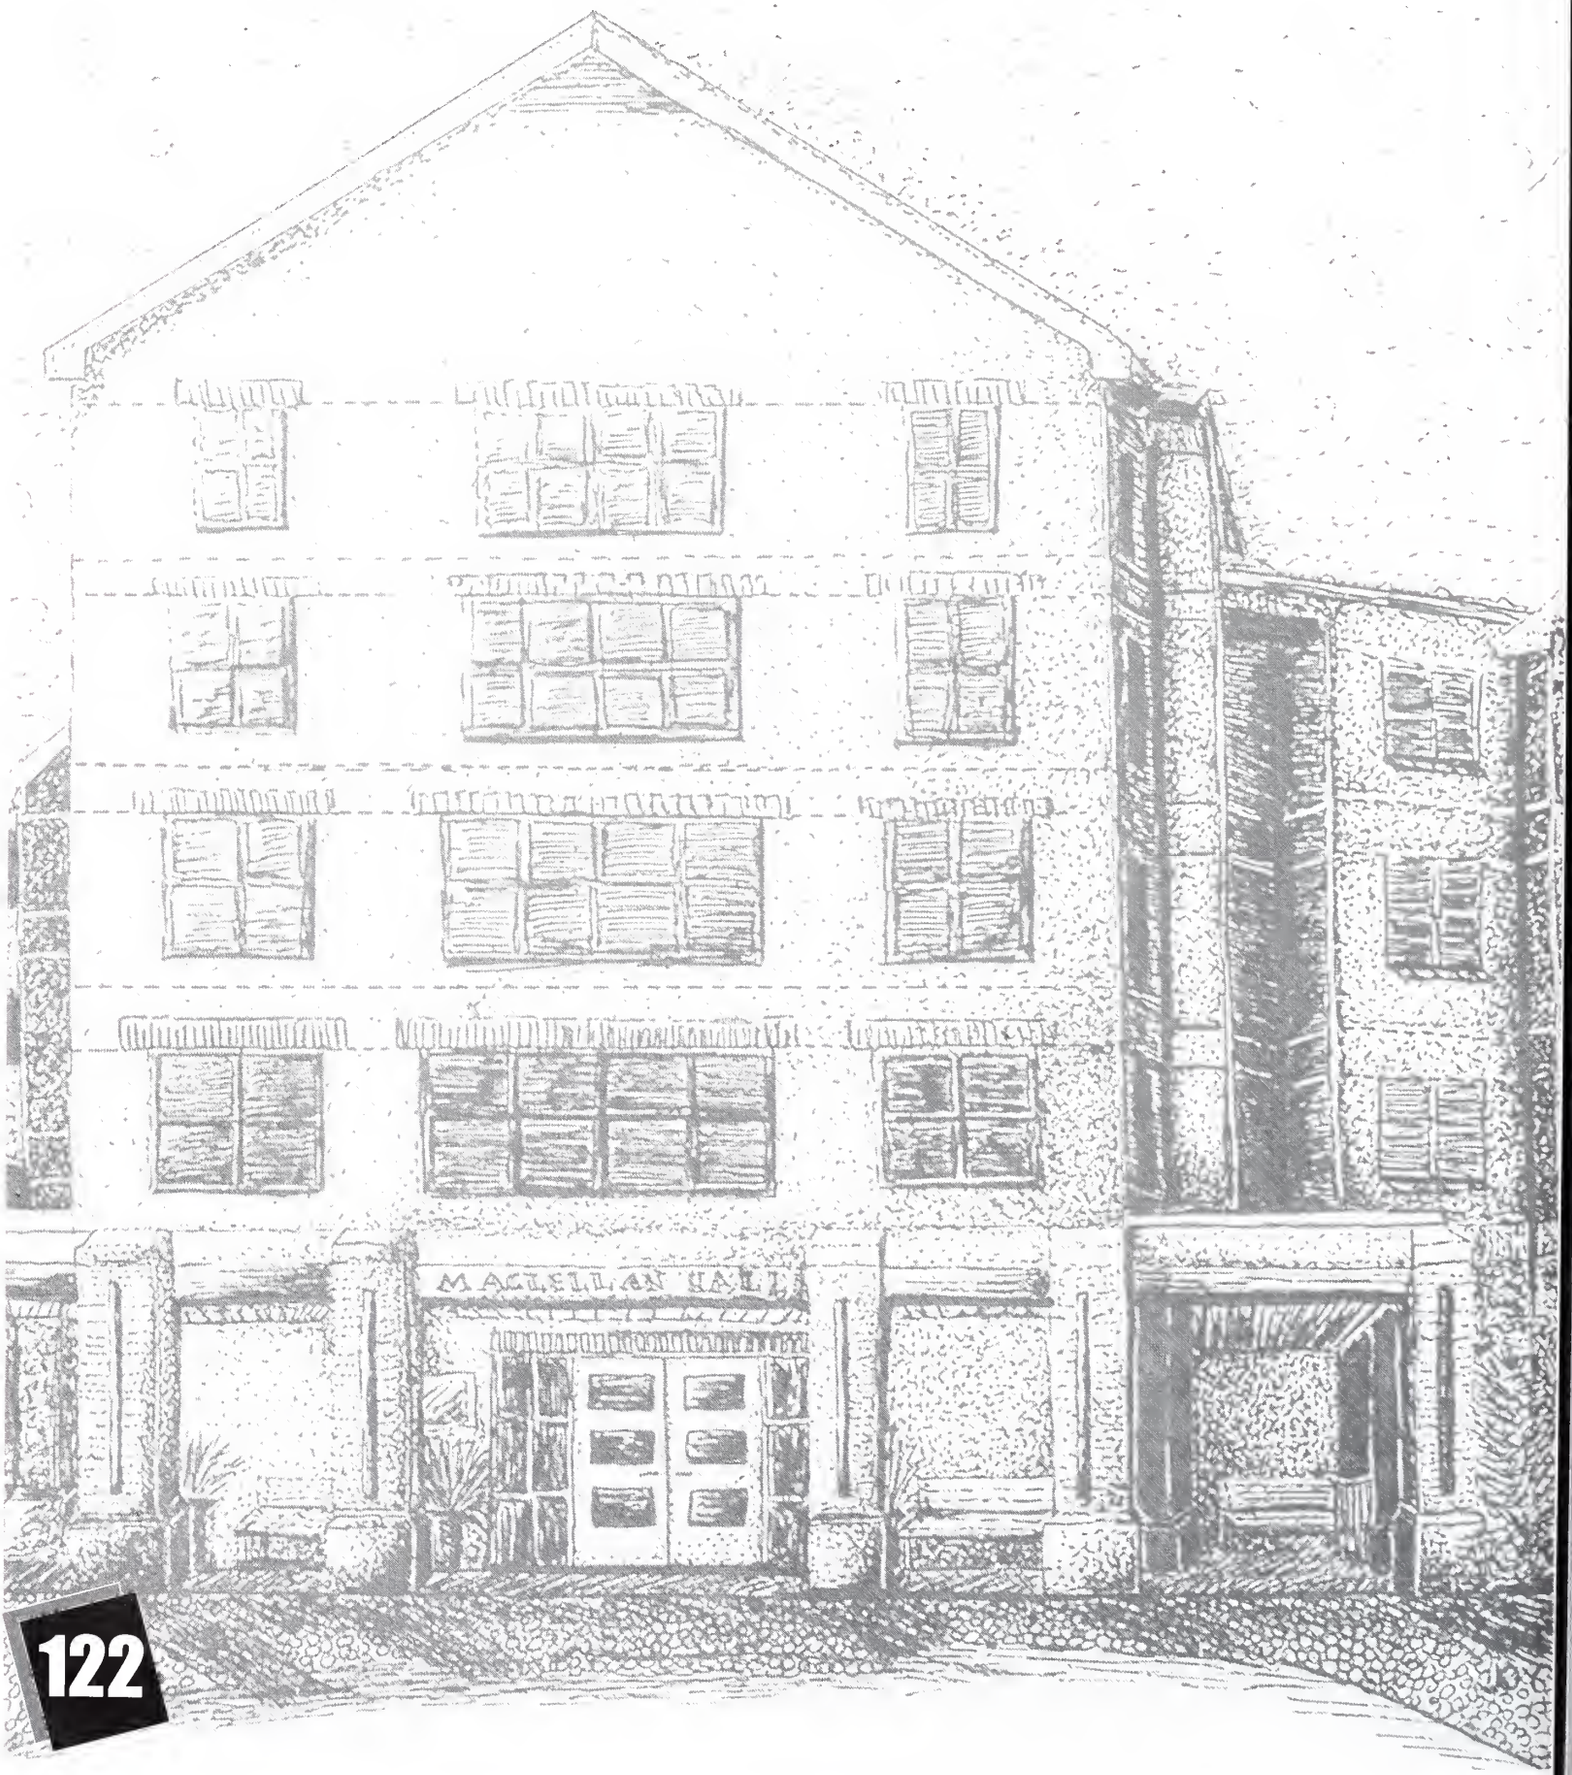
MacLellan/Rymer Hall



Resident Director:

Emily Gosselink

Emily Gosselink is the belaved ond tolented Resident Director of Maclellan ond Rymer Halls. She is originolly from Des Moines, Iowa and is the aldest of four girls. Emily ottended Narthwestern College, a small Christian callege in Orange City, IA, and graduated in 2000 with a degree in English/Secondory Educotion. After graduating, she worked as o Resident Directar and assistant valleyboll caach at NWC. This past July, Emily maved down sauth ond has truly enjayed her first year as the Resident Director af Maclellan/Rymer. And, while acting as a RD, she is olsa warking tawords her groduate M.A. degree in Higher Educatian at Geneva Callege (PA) (twa weeks in the summer and carrespondence work thraughaut the yeor). As af yet Emily hos neither husband nar kids, but she does have a pet gecka nomed Geica! She has also became invalved in the Vineyord Church in Chattanaago, which she laves.

This past year has been o busy ane os a RD far Emily. Her list af memarable events is rather extensive, including three majar emergency room visits within twa weeks in September and guys breaking into her apartment ta use her highly caveted bathtub. The Mac Cauncil hos hasted severol great events like the Bryan pep rally, Mavie Night, Mac Christmos porty, Dating Gome, Assassin, Rymer Cup, ond varaus study breaks. And it's impassible ta farget the Chi Alpha flaad. The Volentine's dinner far "Ladies-not-sa-much-in-Lave," hall study breaks in Emily's apartment, March Modness, and the fun times af just hanging aut with the men and women in Mac/Rymer!

Emily alsa has a great oppreciatian and lave for her Resident Assistonts. She says, "My RA staff has been on incredible blessing—they lave and support each ather and me in an uncanditional, Christ-like way. They're more than just a stoff to me, but very speciol friends. We've definitely experienced koinonia in Maclellan this year!"

Sutherland

REPRESENT!

Sutherland – Men who, though tossed back and forth by the waves, are relentlessly at war with the flesh; wrestling each day with Christ's call to Holiness and Biblical manhood. Men unafraid of who they are, knowing identity in Christ as their only hope, stumbling and falling but convinced of the power and work of their Master and Savior Jesus Christ, the God who brings victory. Men who have also taken a bath in Emily Gosselink's tub and who feel themselves to be the tentative winners of Rymer Cup this year (just let them know when the relay race wiill bell). Men who strongly desire to clarify that there are only 2 Howards -- not 3. Men who REPRESENT!

THE FIVE POINTS

Phillip Harvey (RA), Elnathan Barnett, Justin Borger, Robby Bosshardt, Eric Crossman, Deepak Ebeneezer, Geoff Glenister, Eric Hamilton, Andrew Hardesty, Dustin Honaker, Tim Johnson, Jeff Kyle, Matt Laslo, Aaron Lesondak, Ben Lesondak, Lauri Moyle, David Pirek, David Plumly, Jean-Paul Robelot, Adam Rodriguez, Andrew Russell, Alex Silva, Will Slawter, Roger Ulrich, and Octavius Wright

Last year THE FIVE POINTS was nothing more than a handful of sparkles in our respective eyes, but now, they have risen from the dust, proclaiming the future and the day is theirs. The men of THE FIVE POINTS are the vanguards, strong of heart, not afraid to take bold, Christ-like love outward from their humble dwelling, across campus, into Chattanooga, and to the world.

Last semester, this hall was simply Unknown; this semester, however, it has been distinctively named. Their name, THE FIVE POINTS, was chosen because it reflects who the men on the hall are. There are five suites on the hall. Each suite stands as one individual point among five, and although each point is marked by its own unique individuality, all of them are bonded together in unity forming one cohesive body, much like a star.

Suburbs

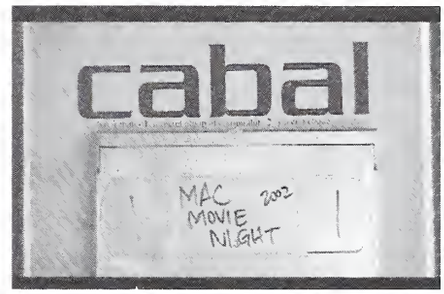
Lawrence

Dan Adams (RA), Stuart Booth, Craig Bosma, Ty Bourgeois, Roddy Chisholm, Dustin Douglass, Allen Duble, Matt Fray, John Goodman, Nathaniel Gutierrez, Toby Kellogg, Brent Kilman, Josiah Lee, Nick Pappas, Jesse Pettit, Alex Robeson, David Rooy, Matt Sligh, Nelson Somerville, Aaron Stewart, Robbie Sweet, Micah Waldecker, and Seth Waldecker



The Brotherhood of Lawrence incorporates a variety of men who enjoy contemplating the feasibility of different schemes and scenarios like freezing fog, prairie dog vacuums, and woo woo whistlers. And, of course, the occasional company of women is always a nice break from such consuming topics. The Brotherhood reflects Christ by demonstrating what it truly means to be brothers in Christ. Lawrence was the illustrious first place winner of the Maclellan Movie Night, the dashing Alex Robeson won Maclellan Date Night, and the Lawrence Alliance valiantly defended many attacks during the playing of Assassin to ensure a Brotherhood victory.

Rowan

Ashley Harbert(RA), Kristen Faith Bachmann, Jana Barker, Beth Bogardus, Summer Brown, Anna Carter, Sara Carver, Janette Crane, Danielle Curtis, Kara Dickerson, Heidi Grandy, Adrienne Hardy, Heather Johnson, Karla Kaemingk, Beth Kirschner, Amy Kyle, Laina Morris, Jennifer Morris, Anne Pelchar, Emily Reed, Hannah Seymour, Taylor Smith, Christina Swiger, Jacqueline Thrush, Erin Troxler,and Amanda Whitehead

Rowan is the hall "where everybody knows your name, and you're always glad you came." As a group of Christian girls, Rowan reflects the diversity found within the image of God. They also reflect the success of special relationships, boasting a record-setting statistic: 7 out of 19 girls are engaged!

Harambe!

Rachel Collins (RA), Leslie Barkema, Rebekah Beard, Kacie Brown, Sara Camenisch, Megan Fournier, Lindsay Fulgham, Lydia Fullalove, Jennifer Fulkner, Chantel Green, Jodye Hebert, Hayden Hill, Ginny Holton, Ruth Kennedy, Katie Lea, Monica Linde, Tonia McKenna, Rebekah Meador, Meg Meiners, Kendra Moore, Erin Moran, Christy Norwood, Joanna Reitz, Beth Sloan, Madonna Smith, Laura Starsoneck, Annie Stott, and Bethany White

Have you seen my Harambe!?

They just want to be friends on Harambe!. This hall is composed of different girls from all over; with their dynamic diversity Harambe! comes together like the body of Christ to fulfill their calling to love and serve one another. More than anything, they appreciate their RA like no other and strongly suggest that Rachel Collins should be in the RA Hall of Fame somewhere near the top.

Halcyon

Anna Frame (RA), Laura Annessi, Suzanne Beam, Angela Bedsole, Summer Brown, Elizabeth Brown, Adrienna Caballero, Shea Clingerman, Rachel Criss, Atria Dennison, Abigail Downer, Rebekah Forman, Asha Garretson, Alyshia Griffin, Libby Kern, Abby Kinley, Janna Larson, Laura McCain, Haddon McCarty, Alania Morris, Abby Reed, Jessica Schlup, Ashley Sherbondy, Heather Simpson, and Ashley Slate

You can always find a smile on Halcyon. The women of this hall are unfied through the love of Christ and fun times. Rain or shine, Halcyon is the place to be.

Chi Alpha

Carrie Thomas (RA), Sarah Barkema, Beth Bogardus, Karen Booth, Katie Clawson, Jenny Ehlers, Andrea Gossett, Laurel Hastings, Brae Howard, K.C. Hudson, Ruth Kennedy, Emily Kling, Ashley Leinbach, Sarah-Ginny McFarland, Kristy Mitchell, Brynne Osborn, Beka Robertson, Qori Saune, Kelly Schoon, Erin Stortz, Yukari Takata, Ginger Taylor, Rebecca Walters, Laura Ward, Rachel Welden, Chanel Wiltz, Amanda Wright, and Rachel Wright

Chi Alpha is a diverse, dynamic group of women who are passionate about loving Christ, each other and life! Their relationship as a hall reflects Christ's presence in their lives – they all love to hang out with each other, go to dinner together, and simply enjoy one another's company. Through thick and thin and floods, the Chi Alpha girls hang together.

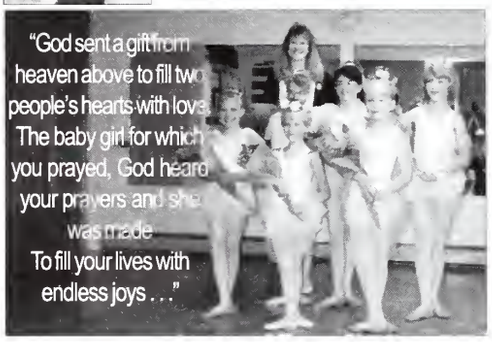
Congratulations to our Co-ed
We're so proud of you and love you so, as the little girl growing up and now as the woman God is sculpting. Wouldn't want to change a thing; God's design is perfect.
From our hearts, Dad & Mom



Anne Lynn Barbieri

Anne with an "E," which means "grace." By God's grace you have faced many challenges and accomplishments these last 4 years. You have grown into a caring, mature woman. We hope you will continue to love Jesus and follow Him onthe new road ahead.

Love, Mom and Dad

Jeffrey Robert Bulthuis

Jeff -

We share your joy as you graduate from Covenant. God bless you as you continue on with your goals and dreams for your future!

Love,
Dad,

Abigail Liane Downer

Abigail,

Godly, precious, diligent, fun, wise, and beautiful - you are a daughter of ultimate precious worth. We have seen you grow the last four years as a humble servant, faithful friend and bold leader after the character of our Lord. It is a privilege to be your mom and dad.

Sheldon James Grizzle

Sheldon,

The moment you were born, we knew that God had blessed us greatly. We always knew He would use you in a wonderful way. We are thankful that you have always faithfully followed Him. We love you and are very proud of you.

Mom, Dad, Dustin, Hallie, and Lexie

Congratulations Ben,

We are very proud of your accomplishments and our prayers for you as you begin your career is from Col. 3:1-3 " . . . keep seeking the things above, where Christ is, seated at the right hand of God. Set your mind on the things above, not on things that are on earth. For you have died and your life is hidden with Christ in God."

Much Love,

Dad, Mom, Andrew, Tim and Laura

"... and you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your might. And these words which I command you this day shall be upon your heart; and you shall teach them diligently to your children." Deut. 6:5-7

You did it!! You're Ready to Rule!
Thank Todd Blankenship. I think
He's still at the Denver airport.
You and Ash made it Four Years!!
How often did he go sailing right out
There the last 4 years? How many Times did we spit on bugs or you put your little hand in my eye? You are a blessing and continue to keep us on our toes. We're joyful, thanking God for letting Us be your family. Cling to the Cross.

Jonathan Edward Hubbard

Jonathan,
You have been a delight to us your whole life. We thank God for you and we are so proud of you. We ask for God's blessing on your life and that He will make you a blessing to many people.

With love and thanks,
Mom and Dad

Emily Renee Jones

"I thank my God in all my remembrance of you, alwaysoffering prayer with joy for you... being confident of this very thing, that He who began a good work in you will complete it until the day of Jesus Christ."

Generations will know God's love because of you.
We love you!
Mom, Dad, Daniel, & Drew

Andrew Victor Kaufmann

Our prayer is that your perspective on knowing God and His world and living for His glory that has been building your years at Covenant will burn deeper and brighter in your heart and mind in the years ahead.

Love to you,
Mom and Dad
Zephaniah 3:17

We are so proud of you, Dad, Mom, Jeff
Like an eagle! Isaiah 40.31

WE ARE PROUD OF YOU AND
WE LOVE YOU!!!
We wish you God's blessings and guidance every day in your future. "Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge him and he will make your paths straight."
Proverbs 3:5-6

Love forever,
Dad, Mom, Christie,

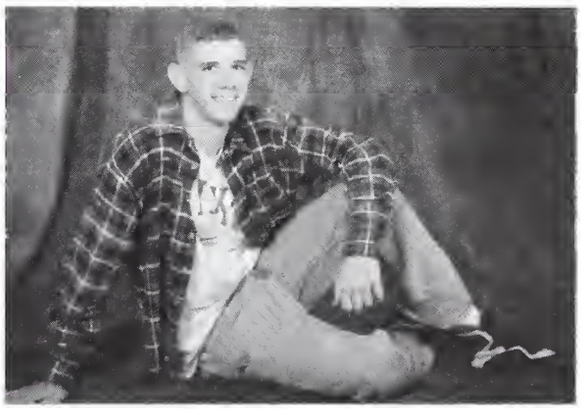
Kyle Benjamin Posey

Dear Kyle,
We thank God continually for blessing us with you, son. We pray that your future will be filled with the confidence of knowing that you are never really "on your own," because God will never fail to be there for you. We are here for you too - praying for you, supporting you, believing in you, and loving you with all our hearts.



Congratulations on your Graduation!
Love, Mom, Dad, Shea, and Hannah

"His master replied, 'Well done, good and faithful servant! You have been faithful with a few things; I will put you in charge of many things. Come and share your master's happiness.'" Matthew 25:21

The World According to Aaron

THIS COLUMN IS NOT YET RATED

by: Aaron Mesh February 1996

In today's troubled times, impossible homeschooled youths need help deciding what movies they should and should not watch. This, as usual, is where I come in. I have waded through mounds of typical Hollywood trash, to find - hang on to your hats, folks - more typical Hollywood trash. Movies are rated from *(typical Hollywood trash) to (typical Hollywood trash). Let's begin Casino: Using my fantastic skills of deductive reasoning, I have discovered that this movie has something to do with a casino. Don't thank me, its' just part of being a reporter. **

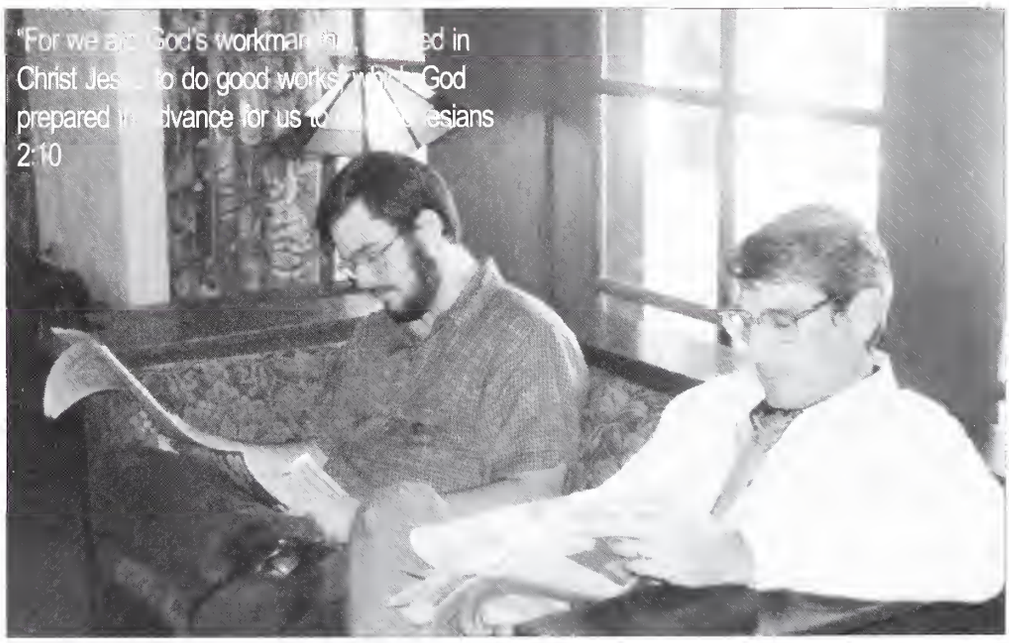
The American President: All about a President secretly controlled by his raving liberal wife. No! Wait! That's the story of our current President! Sorry. ***

Nick of Time: A thrilling, exciting, fast paced movie starring the famed Russian actress Nick of Time. *****

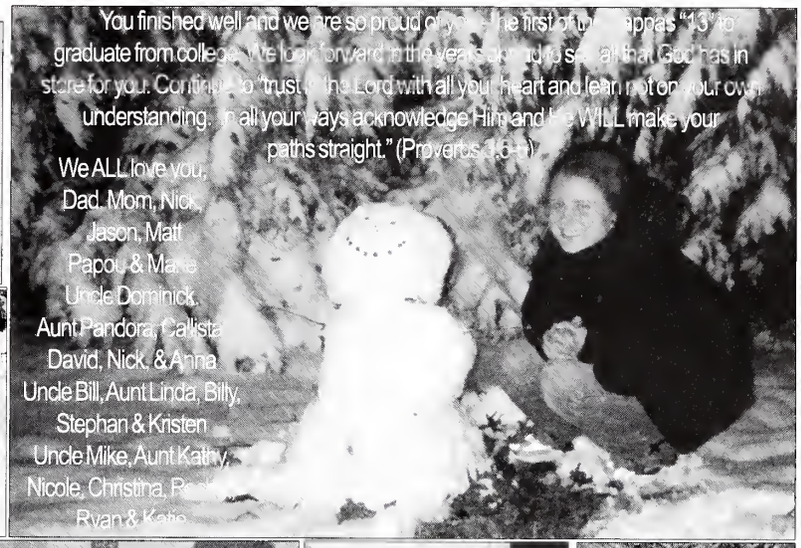
Get Shorty: About a group of people who are overly tall-y, so they attempt to shrink-y so they can get shorty. (You can probably tell I'm starting to have to stretch for humor here.) *

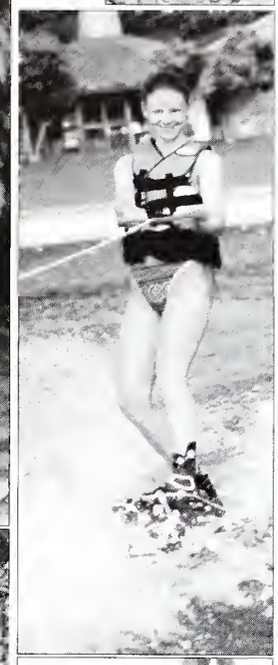
After examining the entertainment available, I say just skip it all. The best amusement around is definitely my column.



Aaron, We love you!
Mom and Dad

Congratulations Monica Pappas, Class of 2003!





Heather Alison Rudy

Hey Heather,
I just want to say, congratulations, you finished . . . college. It's absolutely great. I love you and I miss you.

Patrick

Dear Heather,
Congratulations, Sis! I hope you do well in everything you do in the future.

Love, Chris
James 1:22

Way to go Sis!!
You did it!! You're done!!
Now what??

Thanks for being such a witty, loving and fun sister. New and exciting times lie ahead, and I will be by your side along the way.

I'll love you forever and will always be proud to be your sister.

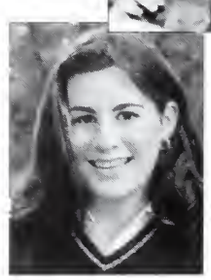
Love, Megan

Heather Alison Rudy

Congratulations on staying the course and finishing strong.

Dearest Heather,
We love you and look ahead to what the Lord has in store for you.
This we pray, that your love may abound still more and more in the real knowledge and all discerment, so that you may approve the things that are excellent, in order to be sincere and blameless until the day of Christ; having been filled with the fruit of righteousness which comes through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God.

All our love,
Mom and Dad



Dear Heather,

Congratulations on completing your college studies.
We pray that you find the path that fulfills God's plan for your life.

"Never be afraid to trust an unknown future to a known God."
- Corrie ten Boom

"God is our refuge and strength, A very present help in trouble."
- Psalm 46:1

"Take time to deliberate, but when the time for action arrives, stop thinking and go for it."
-Andrew Jackson

Love, Grampa Dan & Gramma Sandy

Congratulations, sweet Heather!
You are the "leader of the pack" and you have set a high standard.

"... we have not ceased to pray for you and to ask that you may be filled with the knowledge of His will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, so that you may walk in a manner worthy of the Lord, to please Him in all respects, bearing fruit in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God..."
Colossians 1:9-10

Love, Gramma Nana

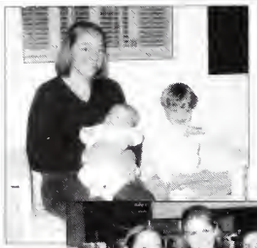
Jess,

With all our love and praise as you graduate from Covenant and move on to what the Lord has prepared for you. Walk ye in it. We will line the way with prayers for you!

Love, Dad, Mom, Josh,
Luke, and Grizzly

Jessica Leigh Schlup

"And the Lord will continually guide you, and satisfy your desire in scorched places and give you strength to your bones; and you will be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water whose waters do not fail." Isaiah 58:11



Heather Rebekah Simpson

What a joy you are to us.
As you know, Jeremiah 29:11 is a great footstool as you take each of those "life season" steps. You are never alone as God leads you into the future. Congratulations on your graduation from Covenant, 2003.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Rachel Naomi Templeton

Sweetie,
Congratulations on your graduation from Covenant.
With ever increasing beauty, grace, charm, and laughter we have watched you grow into the young woman we are very proud to call our daughter.
may God continue to richly bless you.

Love Always,
Mom & Dad
Proverbs 3: 5 & 6

Kathryn,
One of the greatest joys in life is having you as a daughter. We would have never imagined our first born to enrich our lives to the extent that you have. Through loving you, we have only had a glimpse of how much our heavenly Father loves us. We know God has an incredible plan for your life. we are looking forward to the adventure that is just beginning.

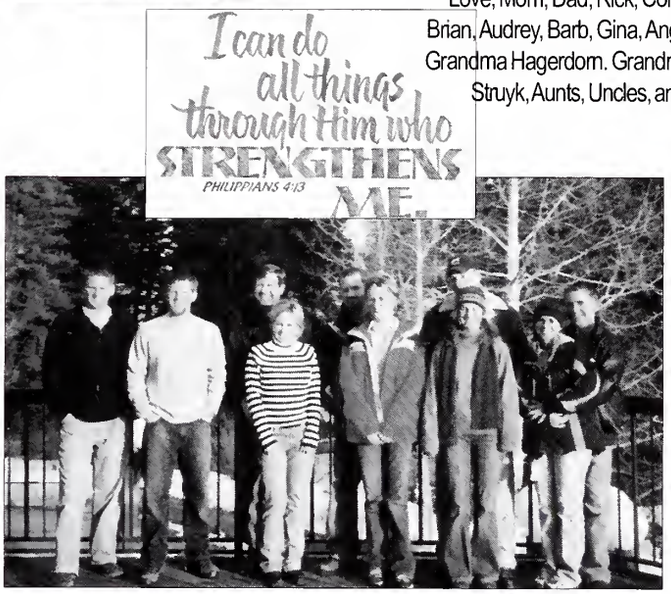
Kathryn Marie Sterling

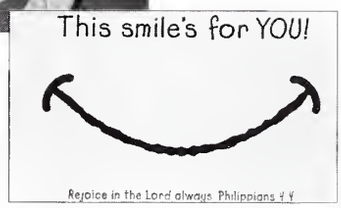
Always know we are so proud of you and love you dearly,
Mom and Dad

Congratulations Kevin!

Our prayer is that you will continue to seek first his kingdom. We are so proud of you Kevin and know that God's be with you always.

Love, Mom, Dad, Rick, Connie, Mike, Jill, Brian, Audrey, Barb, Gina, Angie, Jen, Christa, Grandma Hagerdorn. Grandma and Grandpa Struyk, Aunts, Uncles, and Cousins.





We love you!

Congratulations Sarah Ranell Tilley

It has made us so proud to watch our pretty little girl blossom into a beautiful young lady spoken about in I Peter 3:3&4

WE LOVE YOU & ARE PROUD OF YOU

Dad, Mom, Rachel & Hannah

Kelli Lauren Ziemer

Kelli, You have been such a source of joy and delight to us. God has blessed you with a kind spirit, love of laughter and a love for people. We look forward with great anticipation to the young lady you are becoming.

With love and pride,
Mom and Dad

"Shout for joy to the Lord, all the earth. Worship the Lord with gladness; come before Him with joyful songs. Know that the Lord is God.
It is He who made us, and we are His people, the sheep of His pasture. Enter His gates with thanksgiving and His courts with praise, give thanks to Him and praise His name.
For the Lord is good and His love endures forever. His faithfulness continues through all generations."
Psalm 100
